Ike Calls for Free United States of Europe in Texas Talks

Consolidation of 3 School Areas Given Board Okay

TOTALING THE FIGURES in the Salvation Army building fund campaign at last night's report meeting is Hal Van Gordon, assistant treasurer for the campaign. Looking on are Capt. Robert Barton of Springfield (left) and Ralph W. Howard, president of the Marion Community Foundation and toastmaster for the dinner meeting.

Well Over Halfway to Goal

Salvation Army Totals $121,120 for Building

Workers in the Salvation Army building fund campaign reported $121,120 20 raised in pledges and cash contributions at a dinner meeting held Thursday night in the YMCA. The goal to erect a Salvation Army Citadel at the corner of Windsor and W. Church Sts. is $205,200.

Ralph Howard, president of the Marion Community Foundation of which the Army is a participating agency, was master of ceremonies, and speaker for the evening was Sr. Capt. Robert Barton, officer in charge of the Army Corps at Springfield. Music was by the local chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America.

Success Seen by Workers

Leaders and workers were in a happy mood when the reports of the various divisions were totaled on the blackboard. While the goal has not been reached, it is the feeling of all that success is in the offing.

Soliciation of industrial workers only now is getting under way due to the strikes of the last month, necessitating an extension of time and work on the part of this particular division, it was pointed out.

With around 60 per cent of the goal reported, last night's meeting was a "victory" in the face of the delays encountered, the leaders said.

Reports of the divisions are as follows: special gifts, Rex Robinson and Harold Grigsby, leaders, $23,805; industry, Don A. Howard and Julian Walker, $28,439; industrial employes, Cecil Roberts and Robert Davies, $4,517; professional, Harold Denzer and M. A. Lambroff, $6,714.50; government, Robert S. Brown and Stuart Jones, $6,244.50, commercial, Robert E. Kibbey and William K. Hamor, $27,573.29; county, George Schertzer and Charlton Myers, $8,959.42; clubs and organizations, Henry A Mickley and Robert Williams, $3,573.96; Salvation Army, Miss Eva Marshall and Captain Mary Nisiewicz, $11,293.62.

Stresses Need for Army

In his talk Capt. Barton stressed the need for Salvation Army work in an industrialized city such as Marion and emphasized what it will mean to the organization to have adequate facilities to carry on its expanding program successfully and give the community a full measure of service.

Music during the dinner hour was by Robert Faulkner, pianist, and the invocation was by Rev. Lynn Harris, president of the Marion County Ministerial Association. Group singing was led by Lt David Dietrick, accompanied at the piano by Captain Barton. Leader for the music by the quartet was W. D. Cowles. The benediction was by Maj. D. B. McCardle.

Workers will make another report next Thursday at the campaign headquarters between 4:30 and 6 p.m.

Reds Failing, Seniors Told At Baylor U.

Union Nearer Now, He Says; Universities Are Urged To Help

WACO, Tex. (AP)—President Eisenhower, terming communism essentially "a gigantic failure," today urged America's great universities to help provide needy free nations with modern science education centers in a "dynamic" move to promote world peace.

The President also sounded a strong new appeal for a European union. He declared it "seems nearer today than at any time in centuries" and would amount to "a mighty pillar of free strength in the modern world." He added:

Strong in Skills

"A free United States of Europe would be strong in the skills of its people, adequately endowed with material resources, and rich in their common cultural and artistic heritage. It would be a highly prosperous community."

In a foreign policy address for delivery in connection with Baylor University commencement exercises, Eisenhower hammered at the idea of need for free world cooperation in the struggle against communism—and at the idea of need for the United States to play a leading role in providing help.

Foreign Aid Plea Seen

In what seemed to be a plea for congressional enactment of the administration's $4,908,000,000 foreign aid program, the President spoke out against being "penny wise" in that field, saying it could lead "only to greater risk and greater cost."

The House Foreign Affairs Committee voted earlier this week to trim the program by more than one billion dollars, mainly in military assistance.

Speaking in the Heart O' Texas Coliseum in his native state, the President said in a nationally televised address:

"Today a militant, aggressive communistic doctrine is dominant over much of the world's surface and over hundreds of millions of the world's people."

'Cruel, Atheistic'

He called communism "cruel, intolerant, atheistic . . . committed to conquest by lure, intimidation and force," and added it "poses a threat from which even this mighty nation is not immune."

But even so, Eisenhower said, "Communism is, in the deepest sense, a gigantic failure." Even in the countries it dominates, he said "hundreds of millions who dwell there still cling to their religious faith; still are moved by aspirations for justice and freedom that cannot be answered merely by more steel and bigger bombers; . . . still dream of the day that they walk fearlessly in the fullness of human freedom."

Flies From Washington

The President flew here from Washington this morning for his address and to accept his 38th honorary degree, this one a doctorate of laws.

Eisenhower's proposal that American universities set up science education centers in needy free nations was set forth in broadest of general terms. He said nothing about any U. S. government role in such a program and left the impression it would be a private enterprise venture.

In leading up to his proposal the President called for coopera-

Central High Planned for New District

Meeker, Morral and Grand Prairie Will Join County Merger

Consolidation of the Meeker, Morral and Grand Prairie school districts was unanimously approved by the Marion County Board of Education Thursday night.

The board's action followed reports by the presidents of the three independent districts, which indicated that the residents of each area concerned were overwhelmingly in favor of the merger and that a bond issue to build a centrally-located high school for a consolidated district would receive the support of the majority of the voters if put on the ballot for the November general election.

First of Significant Size

The merger, which is final upon completion of a 30-day remonstrance period by virtue of the county board's action Thursday night, is the first one of significant size in Marion County.

It will give residents of the combined districts three grade school buildings and a modern new central high school, if a bond issue for a new building is approved by the voters.

The new district will have a tax duplicate of $11,525,730 and a total enrollment of 711 pupils of whom about 180 are high school students.

The combined tax duplicate compares as follows with the tax structure of the individual districts: Grand Prairie, $5,473,180; Morral, $3,715,540; and Meeker, $2,337,000.

Plans are to maintain the existing buildings in each district as grade schools.

84 Per Cent Favor Plan

The five members of each of the independent school districts concerned were present at the county board meeting.

Donald Williams, speaking for the Morral group, said 400 persons had been contacted in his district, of whom 89 per cent were in favor of the merger. Only eight per cent were against it and three per cent had no comment.

"The number of persons we were unable to contact was no more than perhaps 20 in the entire district," Mr. Williams said.

Donald Mattix, president of the Meeker board, reported that 441 persons had been polled in his district. A total of 284 had favored the proposal, a 64 per cent majority, while 83 persons, 19 per cent, were against the merger. Seventy-four individuals or 16 per cent registered no opinion.

Delmar Brewer, Grand Prairie board president, declared that 532 persons had been given questionnaires, in his district.

"Of that number, 503 said yes to the merger, a 94 per cent favorable vote, while only 16 said they were against it," Mr. Brewer

T-Men Arrest At Least 14 in Six-State Raid

Revenue Crackdown Continues; Gamblers, Bookies Are Targets

WASHINGTON (AP) — A second series of revenue service raids on alleged slot machine and bookie joints in six states left at least 14 persons facing criminal charges today. More arrests are expected.

Sixteen establishments were raided Thursday by the government agents following up leads from a similar effort April 19. Eighteen persons were arrested at that time.

The agents, directed from Washington, operated without the knowledge of local authorities as they hit social clubs, restaurants, a fish market and a number of private homes.

Those arrested were charged with violating the federal wagering law of 1951, which among other things requires a $50 occupational stamp for gamblers and imposes a 10 per cent tax on wagers.

Some of the raiders found nothing, but others confiscated slot machines, scratch sheets and other equipment used allegedly for horse track and baseball betting.

Four persons each were arrested in a Bridgeport, Conn., fish market and a private home in New Haven, Conn. Three others were arrested in Newport, Ky., where agents reported finding 25 slot machines. Two Nashville, Tenn., men and one in Cleveland also were arrested. In Cleveland, agents reported seizing six telephones, bookie equipment and race scratch sheets.

Four private homes and a waterfront cafe in Arabi, La., a New Orleans suburb, were among the places raided with no arrests. One raid was staged also in the California border town of Dulzura.

The Reynoldsburg man killed in the accident was listed by the Franklin County Sheriff's department as John Elmer Gantz, 82.

Details of the accident were not known by deputies in the sheriff's department in Columbus at 1 p.m. A spokesman said only that it was a collision of two motor vehicles at the intersection of Beecham and Morse Rds. north of Columbus.

Prospect Wins 1-0 and Enters Class B Finals

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Bob Rodgers pitched and batted unbeaten Prospect, central district champion, into the finals of the Ohio High School Class B baseball tournament today.

Rodgers pitched a one-hitter against South Zanesville and slammed a home run in the 1-0 victory. He fanned 12 and walked only one, the only South Zanesville player left on base. South Zanesville's only hit was erased by a double play

Bill Joseph, South Zanesville hurler, lost a heart-breaker. Aside from Rodgers' homer, Joseph allowed only three singles, struck out 13 and walked four.

Prospect ran its 1956 string of victories to 21. South Zanesville entered the game with a 22-2 record.

Prospect will meet the winner of the Lake-Green Hills game in the finals at 10 a.m. Saturday at Columbus Jet Stadium.

Firemen Hurt As Blaze Hits Auto Building

A fireman was slightly injured in a fire which destroyed a body and paint shop at Five Points Auto Wrecking near Marion Thursday.

Loss to the two-story, wooden structure located at the intersection of Routes 30-S and 98 was estimated at approximately $13,000 by the Caledonia Fire Department. Firemen and auxiliary firemen from the Marion Engineer Depot assisted in fighting the blaze.

Injured was George Fogle of Richwood, an auxiliary fireman from the depot. He suffered a laceration of a forefinger on his right hand but didn't require treatment.

The 40 by 60 foot building, originally a barn, was destroyed and loss included two cars inside, equipment and tools. Cars standing outside the building were also damaged, the Caledonia fire department reported.

According to the Caledonia and depot fire departments and the Marion state highway patrol, which also assisted, the fire was too far under way to save the building. Caledonia and depot firemen battled the fire, which started shortly after 11 a.m. yesterday, for two and one-half hours.

An employe at Five Points, Bill Swartz, manager, notified the depot fire department of the fire at 11:25 a.m., and additional help from the depot and the Caledonia fire department was called later.

The Caledonia fire department reported the fire originated in the southeast corner of the building and was started by an acetylene torch used in welding a truck.

The building is owned by Jack Chivington.

Senate Okays 135,000 Public Units

New Housing Program To Face Critical House

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate-passed bill to authorize 135,000 new public housing units a year headed today toward the House, which has voted for the last three years to knock out all such authority.

The House has not yet acted this year on the recurring controversy. Housing legislation still is pending in the House Banking Committee. President Eisenhower asked a two-year program limited to 35,000 units a year.

Homes for Elderly

The Senate's much larger figure was included in an omnibus housing bill passed by voice vote Thursday night. Among other things, the bill for the first time would establish a federal program of providing homes for elderly persons.

It also would increase Federal Housing Administration loan insurance authority by three billion dollars, extend the GI home loan program for one year, continue provisions for military, farm and college housing, and provide another 100 million dollars for slum clearance grants.

Most of the provisions were noncontroversial, but on those where a fight developed, the Eisenhower administration lost on every test vote.

Smaller Total Rejected

A 41-38 vote rejected a move to write Eisenhower's 35,000-unit public housing program into the bill in place of the Senate Banking Committee's plan for 135,000 a year to a total of about 500,000. The higher figure was retained, with seven Republicans joining 34 Democrats to support it. Seven Democrats and 31 Republicans

Village Hails Its Prodigal Horse Elijah

BUENA VISTA, Colo. (AP) — A tumultous welcome rang Thursday in the shaggy ears of Elijah, the prodigal horse.

Those ears hardly twitched, however, as Elijah took his honors with composure

A band blared, signs went up and a parade formed in this western Colorado community Wednesday night to celebrate Elijah's return from the 13,000-foot mountain ridge where he was trapped much of the winter.

"He didn't seem to give a damn about the whole thing," Gilbert Gregg, Buena Vista weekly newspaper publisher, said.

Elijah was due to take more bows at today's opening of quarter horse races at the Centennial Track south of Denver.

A hayhft by light plane sustained Elijah—named after the biblical prophet fed by ravens—after his plight was discovered in February.

His owners, Al and Bill Turner, brought him down from his mountain fastness, at times shoveling through drifts 10 to 20 feet deep. He was whisked the last 11 miles in a horse trailer Wednesday.

The Turners say Elijah once was Bugs, a pack horse who fled into the hills to escape automobiles and women in skirts. But his name will remain Elijah from here on.

Colorado Editor Demands Apology From Ike's Doctor

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Jack Mohler, editor and publisher of the Colorado Springs Free Press, demands an apology from Maj Gen. Howard M. Snyder, President Eisenhower's personal physician, for opposing a Colorado vacation for the President.

In a telegram sent to Snyder, Mohler said

"Your irresponsible remarks concerning the effect of Colorado's mile-high altitude on heart victims have done our state and the President a great disservice"

Gen Snyder told Washington newsmen recently

"If it were left to me, I would be against going to one of higher altitudes in this first year after the (President's) heart attack"

Mohler's telegram said·

"Local medical authorities inform us there is absolutely no basis in fact for your inference this altitude, noted for its cool, dry climate, has any ill effects on persons suffering from heart ailments"

President Eisenhower was vacationing in Colorado at the time of his heart attack last September.

Stark Sheriff Nabs Escapee

Grossglaus Deputizes 40 in Woods Search

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff Harry W. Grossglaus and 40 auxiliary deputies, armed with shotguns, captured a mental hospital escapee Thursday night in a wooded section west of here.

The fugitive, not identified, was one of four men who escaped from Fairview State Hospital near Scranton, Pa., the sheriff said. He was caught in St. Louis and placed in Alton State Hospital, but also escaped from there, Grossglaus added.

State highway patrolmen found the man sleeping in a car on a road near Massillon and were searching him when he broke away and ran into the woods.

Sheriff Grossglaus said the fugitive had stolen a new automobile from a dealer's lot in Illinois.

Twins, 21, From Oklahoma, Submit to Kidney Transplant

BOSTON (AP)—Identical 21-year-old twin sisters who underwent a kidney transplant operation at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital were reported in "very good condition" today.

In the first such operation involving women, Mrs. Wanda Foster of Chandler, Okla., donated one of her healthy kidneys to her ailing sister Mrs. Edith Helm of Sand Springs, Okla. The operation Thursday took 4½ hours.

The right kidney was removed from Mrs. Foster and transplanted to a spot below Mrs. Helm's own left kidney. Temporarily, Mrs. Helm will have three kidneys, the ailing ones to be removed later.

Mrs. Helm, pronouqnced incurably ill of glomerulenephritis (inflammation of the kidneys) came to Boston in April with her sister to undergo extensive preoperative tests to determine whether they actually were identical twins.

Doctors say that in the present status of transplant surgery, a transplanted organ can live only in an identical twin; it cannot survive in "alien" flesh.

The operation on the women, both of whom weigh less than 100 pounds, was performed by the same surgical team that twice before performed the same operation on twin men.

Doctors had explained to the twins and their families the element of calculated risk in such serious surgery. The doctors said the twins accepted "with courage and optimism" the possibility of thus saving Mrs. Helm's life.

World production of motor vehicles in 1955 will be in excess of 13,000,000 passenger cars, trucks, and buses. Nearly 70 per cent of these vehicles will be of U.S. manufacture.

Fourth Victim Sought In Lake Erie Mishap

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP)—The Coast Guard continued today for the fourth victim of a boat which swamped in rough water in Lake Erie north of Pelee Island.

The boat was found partly capsized Thursday. On it were the bodies of two victims who had lashed themselves to the vessel in a vain effort to survive. A third body was found four miles away.

Still missing is James Wornick, a cook at the Pelee Island Hotel.

Lausche Hails Power as Spur To Expansion

CHESHIRE, Ohio (AP)—The Kyger Creek plant—largest power plant in Ohio—marks the "renaissance of the Ohio River Valley area," more than 1,200 persons attending dedication ceremonies of the new plant here were told Thursday.

The statement was made by Gov. Frank J. Lausche, who unveiled a large aluminum dedication tablet at the plant.

The 150 - million - dollar power plant, one of two built by 15 private utility firms forming the Ohio Valley Electric Corp. (OVEC) to supply power to the Portsmouth area Atomic Energy Commission project, is the second largest ever built by private enterprise. Kyger Creek's sister plant, the Clifty Creek plant at Madison, Ind., is slightly larger.

Gov. Lausche, principal speaker at the dedication, said the Kyger Creek development would attract additional industries to the valley.

Lausche paid tribute to Philip Sporn, OVEC president, who played a principal part in building the plant and who presided at the ceremonies.

Local Men Attend Plant's Dedication

Dedication of the Kyger Creek generating plant of the Ohio Valley Electric Corp. was attended by five Marion men.

They were Harold J. Grigsby, manager of the Marion division of the Ohio Edison Co., one of the 15 private companies which make up the OVEC; Ray Reidenbaugh, Marion County Commissioner; Kenneth Robinson, Marion County representative to the General Assembly; Mayor Gale D. Ireland and R. T. Mason, president and general manager of the Marion Broadcasting Co.,

The Marion group left here Wednesday, went to Mount Vernon where they boarded a bus with simular groups from Youngstown, Warren, Alliance, Mansfield and Ashland. From Mount Vernon they went to Lancaster, stayed overnight in a hotel there then went on to the Kyger Creek station Thursday morning. They returned to Marion Thursday night.

H-P-M Directors Approve Proposal For Firm Merger

MOUNT GILEAD — Directors of the Hydraulic Press Manufacturing Co. of Mount Gilead, at a meeting Thursday ratified the merger plan agreement with the Koehring Co., of Milwaukee.

The merger plan calls for the exchange of H-P-M stock on the basis of 1/5 of a share of new Koehring 5 per cent cummulative convertible $50 par voting preferred for each share of H-P-M common in addition to 1/6 of a share of Koehring $5 common. Mysterious Blast Kills Chicago Man

CHICAGO (AP)—A man was killed today in a mysterious blast of a bomb or other high explosive as he walked in a North Side street.

Police said the victim's body was blown at least 10 feet from the point of the explosion. The body was found lying on the sidewalk in a pool of blood. Both legs had been torn off.

Police theorized that the man may have been carrying the explosive and it exploded accidentally or prematurely if it had been a time bomb.

Police said papers found in his pockets bore the name C. W (or Mike) Campbell, 58, of a South Side address, some 20 miles from the scene. A car lis ed under Campbell's name was parked across the street from where the man's body was found.

Police said 9 or 10 .22 rifle cartridges were found in the trunk of the car along with some handbook race sheets. They said $522 was in his pockets.

Conference Set To Okay Presbyterians' Merger

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The 168th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. today took under consideration a merger with the United Presbyterian Church, a major move in the Church's drive toward unity.

The merger originally was devised as a three-way plan, including the Presbyterian Church in the U.S., a southern states branch.

The issue of a precise stand on segregation and other matters intervened, howeevr, and last year, the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. rejected the merger proposal. The other two then decided to go ahead with a two-way plan.

THE PRESBYTERIAN Church in the U.S.A., convening here for seven days ending May 30, has 2,736,000 members. The United Presbyterian Church, with Presbyteries primarily in the state of Pennsylvania, has 235,000 members.

Proponents of the merger propose to call the combined church the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. and therein lies the greatest hitch.

In such mergers, the principal opposition comes most often from the smallest party involved. In this case, the opposition, such as it seems to be, comes from the larger one on the grounds the name of the new church should not "play up" that of the lesser or smaller group.

THERE APPEARS little doubt, however, that the merger will be approved by the General Assembly here, name change or no. There then would remain a vote of approval by the United Presbyterian Church general assembly at Knoxville, Tenn., next June 13-18 and a vote of confidence by the majority of both groups' presbyteries.

Today's session, the second of the seven-day meeting, will be the first under the gavel of the newly-elected moderator, David W. Proffitt.

Proffitt, a 64-year-old merchant-farmer from Maryville, Tenn., emerged Thursday as somewhat of a surprise winner in the three-way race for the church's most important post.

MORE AND MORE, the moderator has become the spokesman, the "voice" of the church.

Proffitt is the first lay moderator—a non-clergyman—in the last nine years. The one-year job is non-paying but considered a great honor, both to the individual and to the church he serves.

He defeated President Eisenhower's Washington Pastor, the Rev. Edward L. R. Elson of the National Presbyterian Church, an "odds-on" pre-election favorite. Trailing in third place was a "dark-horse" candidate, the Rev. Ramon M. Kistler, president of Beaver College, Jenkintown, Pa.

After the Proffitt-Elson-Kistler votes of 474 - 323 - 108 were announced (with a 453 majority necessary for victory), the assembly moved to make Proffitt's election unanimous.

Akron Man Heads Ohio's Truckers; Galionite Honored

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Clarence A. Kelley of Akron Thursday was re-elected president of the Ohio Trucking Assn., holding its 38th annual convention here.

Other officers elected are Jesse Sentle of Toledo, first vice president; Charles Dumford of Middletown, second vice president; Sam J. Tutt of Middletown, Treasurer; Henry J. Egner of Galion, secretary, and Richard Hardgrove of Toledo, vice president from Ohio to the American Trucking Assns., Inc.

Five men were named to the Ohio association's "Hall of Honor" for outstanding contributions to the industry. They are Neil J. Curry, board chairman of the American Trucking Assns., Inc.; Henry DeMaria of Columbus; Frank J. Egner of Galion; John F. Ernstause, of Norwalk and Frank C. Schmidt of Toledo.

Dixie Ohio Express, Inc., of Akron was awarded the trailmobile trophy for aiding the cause of highway safety in general.

Patrol Fired On

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP)—The U. S. Army says one of its border patrols was fired on from Czechoslovakia when two American reporters turned their field glasses on a Czech border tower.

An Army spokesman said five rifle or carbine bullets ripped into the area around the patrol, one striking within five feet of the lead vehicle. No one was injured.

The Americans said they did not shoot back.

Court To Hear Teacher's Suit

Contract Is Issue at Oberlin High School

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—Common Pleas Judge J. J. Smythe has set a hearing for June 11 in a mandamus suit filed by an Oberlin High School teacher to force the city board of education to grant him a teaching contract for 1956-57.

Mathematics teacher Stewart H. Fairchild, a member of the school staff since 1940, has been refused a contract for next year. No reason was given last March 13 when the board accepted Supt. Charles E. Wigton's recommendation not to renew the teacher's contract.

Fairchild says he was dismissed because of his repeated criticism of the school administration.

During the last two months several petitions have been presented to the board in Fairchild's behalf.

Committeewoman Gets In Wrong Conference

FALL RIVER, Mass. (AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Luongo sat in on a meeting of the Republican City Club for five minutes Thursday night before she realized she was in the wrong room.

Mrs. Luongo, a prominent Fall River Democrat, should have been at a meeting of Democratic women held on the same floor of the same hotel.

Republican Chairman John B. Waterman declared a five-minute recess to allow Mrs. Luongo to leave — and also to check if any more Democrats had wandered into the wrong hall.

Slain in Ambush

JERUSALEM, Israeli (AP)—A military spokesman said an Israeli tractor driver was slain from ambush Thursday night near the southern Judean settlement of Lachisch. He reported the assailants, "assumed to be infiltrators," made off with the driver's gun and ammunition.

American Fable

Once there was an American public official who said what was on his mind and did not get his official head bashed in for it.

This was a long time ago, before American public officials had learned hell hath no fury like a minority with a highly articulate spokesman who has strong personal ambitions.

Later, no public official could say what was on his mind any more unless he cleared it first with a public relations counsel, an expert in the art of pear-shaped vowels and oyster-shaped ideals flexible enough to slip down any gullet without binding.

But when things in America were still primitive, a public official could say "What goes up must come down"—and get away with it

He could say something to the effect that in a system which is not run like a county home there will be days when a man may not know where the next can of beans is coming from.

He could say it is wonderful to live in a country where it's no disgrace to get knocked around by adversity if you get up off the floor afterward—where it is taken for granted that the race for survival is run over an obstacle course called Ups and Downs.

He even could make a comparison between bird dogs who ram around and find something when they're hungry and bird dogs who sit on their fannies and howl—and get away with that, too.

Some of his other blackbusters could be: Honesty is the best policy—A rolling stone gathers no moss—He who laughs last is slow on the pickup—Never try to fill an inside straight—There is no fuel like an old fuel—All power corrupts and absolute power corrupts absolutely—There'll be no pie in the sky by and by.

Crazy, radical things like that, public officials used to be able to say. . .

But not any more. If the truth hurts, now, don't try it on. The squeaking wheel is entitled to get all the grease. What is good for U.A.W. is good for U.S.A. There is only one direction—up. Everybody's out of step but Walter.

These are what a public official must say now if he knows which side the votes are buttered on.

The moral is you can tell a good deal about a country by the things a public official must say instead of the things he would say if he said what was on his mind.

Puppy-Tail Procedure

The House Foreign Affairs Committee proved by its 24-to-4 acceptance of a deeply-cut foreign aid bill that its members are reluctant to give the Eisenhower administration what it wants but anxious to give it something.

If the committee vote foreshadows the House decision, the fight to restore the more than a billion dollars slashed from the administration's five-billion-dollar proposal will have to be made in the Senate.

The question is wether this is the time to cut foreign aid below the administration's recommendation, when the Soviet Union is starting to use foreign aid to improve its own international relations.

Having seized the initiative in this field and held it for a decade, the United States must decide now whether to hang on to it.

Those who assert the whole foreign-aid idea is wrong and should be scuttled as a waste of money and a burden on U.S. taxpayers are being more candid than those who want to lop it off a little at a time. That kind of a puppy-tail cutting would defeat the purpose of a foreign-aid program by spending money on an abandoned cause.

Foreign aid may be a useless expenditure. But it is significant as the time for debate in the House approaches that its critics are not asking for it to be discontinued; they want to cut the administration's request.

They would be in a better position if they asked for a termination of the whole program. That would amount to leaving the foreign-aid field wide open to the Soviet Union, which seems willing to take over the initiative in the one place where the United States has held an edge.

Emotional Surge

John Landy, the Australian runner-philosopher who has clinched his popularity in this country by being humble about his ability, talked frankly to reporters the other day about what it takes to run a mile in less than four minutes.

It is not a great physical feat, he explained. It is something that can be done again and again, once it has been done once. There are six or seven men capable of running a mile in 3:55, in Landy's opinion. One is Jim Bailey, the Australian who beat Landy when the two of them raced for the first time.

Bailey did not know he could beat Landy. He never had run a mile that fast. Yet, he discovered to his own surprise that he, too, could run a mile in less than four minutes when he really wanted to. That, in Landy's view, is the secret.

The difference between men who can do the seemingly impossible and the merely difficult is an emotional surge that carries them beyond their ordinary limits.

It explains what happens when athletes "play over their heads." They go beyond ordinary limits thanks to a state of mind that makes the impossible become possible.

States Losing Rights

By David Lawrence

High Court Sacrifices Legality to Expediency

WASHINGTON

The most spectacular and yet the most sensational news happening of our times is the manner in which the 48 state governments are being deprived of their rights by the Supreme Court of the United States.

Lawrence

The latest decision, rendered this week, takes away from the states their power to regulate employment relations. It takes away from the worker his freedom of association and freedom of expression as an individual — his civil rights—and puts them at the mercy of an intolerant majority in Congress. He must join a union or be deprived of a job with the railroads.

Minority rights, which from the foundation of the Republic have been safeguarded by the Constitution, now are to be vested in a political majority in Congress.

Justice Frankfurter, who wrote an opinion concurring in the decision, makes no bones about it—he virtually acknowledges that the Supreme Court is a political body which changes its views with the whims of popular opinion and he lauds this as a virtue.

IN DISCUSSING the 60-year history of the fight for and against compulsory unionization, Mr. Frankfurter reviews the criticisms against early court decisions and traces the various opinions handed down. Then he says:

"The change in the court's understanding of industrial problems, certainly as they affect railroads, in their bearing upon the country's commerce and all that thereby hangs, to no small degree reflected the changed attitude of the railroads toward the role of labor unions in the discharge of the functions of the railroads. As striking evidence as any of this important shift in opinion is the fact that the Railway Labor Act of 1926 came on the statute books through agreement between the railroads and the railroad unions on the need for such legislation."

Here is a confession that the Supreme Court nowadays doesn't consider what the Constitution says but what private interests, powerful in politics, may agree upon as between themselves.

THE FAMOUS "code authority" provision of the National Recovery Act, which permitted agreements to be made between management and labor, was struck down by a unanimous opinion of the supreme Court in 1935 precisely because the nine justices believed the public interest was greater under the Constitution than any agreements made between private interests such as labor and management even though Congress sanctioned those agreements.

Mr. Frankfurter, however, feels that if employers in an industry get together with labor unions to form a job monopoly and decide to deprive anyone of a job unless he belongs to a union, this is a worthy objective. He hints that he would uphold the constitutionality of a law on that particular provision if it came before him. But he claims for the record, of course, that the Supreme Court "put to one side" such situations in the case decided this week.

Actually, it was before the court, but the nine justices chose technical grounds for shutting their eyes to the issue altogether. It is plain to see the handwriting on the wall—minority rights are vanishing, and whatever law Congress decides to enact hereafter to regulate employment relations will become "the supreme law of the land" in the eyes of the present court.

IN WRITING the main opinion, Justice Douglas in behalf of the other justices says: "Congress, acting within its constitutional powers has the final say on policy issues. If it acts unwisely, the electorate can make a change.'

But when the Supreme Court endows Congress with greater power than the Constitution bestows and euphemistically calls it just a "policy," the electorate can't change their Supreme Court. Unless, therefore, the court whose judges now concede that they are influenced by the pressures of popular opinion, takes heed of public criticism certain constitutional rights will be lost for the period that an unwise or irresponsible court holds office.

"One would have to be blind to history," says Justice Douglas, "to assert that trade unionism did not enhance and strengthen the right to work."

This is a frank avowal of the concept of expediency — the Machiavellian doctrine that the end justifies the means. Other justices—the men who made the Supreme Court the respected institution it has been for decades — did not fall victim to political expediency.

THEY EXPOUNDED the Constitution in accordance with legal and not political concepts and never allowed Congress to grant permissive power to private economic groups to take away minority rights. It was in May 1935 when a unanimous court headed by Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes knocked out the expediency argument by declaring: "Extraordinary conditions do not create or enlarge constitutional power."

The same court could properly have added that a change in political or sociological conditions or in the tides of public opinion does not change the Constitution of the United States unless Congress by a two-thirds vote of both houses and three-fourths of the states of the Union say so in approving an amendment to the Constitution itself.

Age of Machinery

By TRUMAN TWILL

The thought crosses my mind so often it has worn a groove, that to be baffled and muddle-headed about machinery is an admission of guilt in what historians are calling the Machine Age.

Even atomic fission and fusion, which loom large in all current prospects of affecting our lives, depend on machinery for control. It is a historic fact that releasing the power of the atom was only a theoretical possibility until U.S. engineers devised the mechanical means of doing it. The mechanical means are still the most carefully guarded of all atomic secrets.

But it is not necessary to cite atomic secrets as evidence that all of us are under compulsion to get hep about mechanics to prove our right to survival in the Machine Age. Our bafflement trips us up in such simple things as can-openers and the multiplicy of mechanical gadgets with which we must come to terms in everyday existence.

A householder these days who cannot assert his mastery over the mechanical challenges which are commonplace is in danger of becoming a displaced person. He is trying to survive in the Machine Age with a Stone Age sense of survival, and it simply will not do.

Even if he has a rudimentary sense of nuts and bolts and a speaking acquaintance with the principle of leverage and power transmission, it is not enough to equip him for routine maintenance of the power mower with which he keeps his lawn trimmed.

Admitting that the particular power mower for which I have assumed operating responsibility is more intricate than the ordinary run of these mechanical monsters, I have a book of instructions for making ordinary adjustments. Moreover, the instructions are illustrated.

That is to say, anyone who can read a blueprint and grasp what Archimedes figured out about leverage a couple of thousand years ago should be able to grasp the idea in a jiffy. That is the catch.

I have not yet pulled abreast of Archimedes in my comprehension of mechanics. Confronted with a choice of two places where adjustments could be made, but only one place where an adjustment needed to be made, I inevitably chose the wrong place and made the lawnmower go from bad to worse.

This finally entailed recourse to professional assistance and the customary mild rebuke from the professional tinkerer to another floundering dub whose right to own and operate a wrench is kept under a cloud by his unfailing tendency to do the wrong thing with it.

And that is why the thought wears a path across my mind that all of us who cannot develop surefootedness in ordinary mechanics are Stone Age goons displaced in the Machine Age. We are on trial for our right to survive.

We must prove ourselves worthy of the privileges and frustrations that are threatening to engulf us.

Mongrels in Legislation

By Raymond Moley

One of the last and best of the short speeches of Alben Barkley in the Senate was a protest against the growing practice of what he called "multiple sponsorship" of bills. As Sen. Barkley described it, some member gets an idea and writes a bill around it. Then, to save it from oblivion and to make it look impressive, he tries to get a number of other senators to join him in sponsoring it. He deposits it on the table and invites co-signers. Then a number of his friends, who may have fish of their own to fry, tread what Sen. Barkley called "the sawdust trail" and affix their names. This business by no means implies that there is any great conviction on the part of the co-signers. They are just accommodating a friend.

ONE SUCH LEGISLATIVE mongrel was introduced about a year ago with Sen. Murray as the original sponsor. It carried, under Mr. Murray's, names of 21 Democrats and two Republicans.

It is Senate Resolution 86, and with a great outpouring of platitudes and flourishes it states that it should be "the policy of the Congress that the United States participate with other nations, under the auspices of the United Nations, the Food and Agriculture Organization, and other international agencies, in establishing an International Food and Raw Materials Reserve.

Various countries would contribute to this store of all kinds of raw materials, including food and presumably minerals, which would probably be managed by an international authority.

The money or IOU's given to this "Reserve" for the purchase of materials therefrom would be used for all sorts of uplift activities among needy nations. It should be noted that "credits" are involved which would mean a new kind of commodity currency.

THE EFFECT would be a sort of international price control—just another of the many proposals made in recent years for some sort of international control of our trade and economy.

The idea was submitted to the State Department, which took a very dim view of the idea. Assistant Secretary Morton, replying for Secretary Dulles, replied that the idea was not new but had been presented in many other forms in the past. It would, he said, create more problems than it would solve. Moreover, Mr. Morton wrote that it would involve "rigidities and distortions" which might well constiute "a danger to a free competitive economy."

Nevertheless, there will be hearings, beginning this month, on this proposal.

It would seem that the Senate in its rush to get essential business done before an early adjournment might find more profitable ways of spending its time. That, however, is not the way of senators in an election year.

War on Parking Problem

By Alan Emory

WASHINGTON

That perennial problem of where to park the family buggy in a teeming city has spurred the country's urban centers to a $500,000,000 program designed to provide 750,000 parking spaces.

The program was gleaned from a survey of 326 major United States cities, which have 786,154 spaces available or definitely planned. And these include only facilities created and owned by local government agencies.

Cities with more than 500,000 population plan to invest about $145,000,000 in public parking over the next five years, the American Municipal Association reported. Medium-sized cities, with populations 25,000-500,000, expect to spend about $51,000,000 in the same time.

OFF-STREET parking in these cities provided publicly accounts for more than 168,844 spaces. This year another 51,567 are planned. They are found in more than 1,000 different lots, but in addition facilities for 90,000 more cars and costing $200,000,000 are on the drawing board.

Beyond off-street parking, the cities have provided 480,000 metered curb spaces at a cost of $27,000,000 for the meters alone.

New York City, in the next five years, will spend $50,000,000 for parking facilities, compared with the $13,000,000 invested in present areas for cars. Los Angeles will provide 10,800 spaces, Detroit, 7,216; Cleveland, 6,000; Boston, 4,500; San Francisco, 5,117; Pittsburgh, 5,450, and Cincinnati, 5,000.

The driver does best in California cities, where there are the greatest number of publicly-owned parking spaces, 25,637, but Illinois, sparked by the huge Chicago program, has spent the most, $31,875,000.

IN SOME CITIES parking programs are stymied by inadequate legislative authority, the most serious stumbling blocks occurring in Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Georgia, Nebraska, Oregon, Texas and Washington.

Some cities are actively trying to overcome their parking deficiencies right now. Here are some case studies:

Ann Arbor, Mich., having to contend with 25,000 registered cars and 400 student-owned autos, operating within seven square miles, made a survey. Then it adopted a long-range, pay-as-you-go parking plan by selling revenue bonds. All parking facilities were combined into one system, with income from all facilities pledged to secure the bonds. A 10-year expansion plan will nearly double present meter, lot and garage space.

Chicago had a plan for operating parking facilities privately under contract, but a 1950 court decision threw that out as unconstitutional. The Illinois Supreme Court reversed the ruling and the city, following an issue of $50,000,000 in revenue bonds, has parking decks for more than 8,000 cars, plus 27,000 curb meters, and the Park District, a separate taxing agency, built a $6,000,000 lakefront underground garage with 2,400 spaces.

KANSAS CITY, MO., entered into a cooperative venture including a 2,200-car city-owned garage, a parking project, a plan to help merchants provide off-street parking, a requirement for minimum off-street parking under the zoning ordinance and traffic department supervision and regulation of all parking. Thus, public and private efforts were combined.

In Orlando, Fla., a parking commission determined meters would help solve the problem and provide revenue to finance off-street parking. A public campaign proved eminently successful.

Pittsburgh's parking authority borrowed $2,500,000 from local banks and the city pledged $14,000 a month in meter revenues to help finance a big garage program. Result: already there are spaces for more than 4,000 cars.

Sacramento, Calif., has to contend with 100,000 automobiles daily and has the highest rate of car ownership of any city in the country. A $1,600,000 revenue bond issue for parking lots got things started, and the lots are now showing an annual surplus of more than $50,000, while expansion plans call for a boost from the present 897 spaces to 1 165 by 1966.

Target Practice

Maybe the world really is getting smaller. Conrad Hilton already has run out of foreign countries to build hotels in and is back to Kansas City.

Lots of housewives listen to every afternoon baseball game on the radio. Not that they're so crazy about the sport, but they want to know when to start reheating dinner.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Now for Spectre-Vision!

Hollywood has completed its search for Bridey Murphys to play in "The Search for Bridey Murphy" and come up with four to portray her between the age of four and 60, with Theresa Wright playing the housewife who abandons her housework for wraith-work and switches from "What's cooking?" to "What's spooking?" Bridey, who has been haunting the old homestead, will soon be haunting the movie theaters, ghost to ghost, so to speak.

THIS WILL GIVE millions the chance to curl up with a good spook, and we look for the cinema house lobby ads to read, "You, Too, Can Be Somebody Else All This Week," "Meet Theresa Wright Wraith to Wraith Twice Daily," and "With This Box Office It Ain't the Money; It's the Spirit."

Believers in spiritualism, age retrogression, pre-existence and chats with the departed are going to have a field day on the wide screen. We fear the effect on casual movie-goers, ever susceptible to movie influences. This could develop a new class of cinema patrons going around in a trance in the belief they are chumming with their ancestors. They can even get the idea over a bag of buttered popcorn that they are somebody else (What's to prevent the 1956 bag of popcorn taking on the shape of a sixteenth-century basket of hot chestnuts?)

FANCY THE POSSIBLE effects on a boy and girl watching the movie. The boy has his arm around the girl, naturally, but under the spell of Bridey, his arm becomes that of his great-great-grandfather. The girl has suddenly lost interest in her boy friend and thinks she is with Sir Walter Raleigh.

"Eddie, take your arm from around me," she orders. "I'm not Eddie," says Eddie. "I am G. Brewster Coddingham of Salem, Mass., and we Pilgrim Fathers are doing very well. The arm of which you complain is around a Pilgrim mother."

"Please pass the popcorn," commands the girl.

"I will take it up with the Indians," says Eddie. "Now stop bothering me, Jennie."

"Jennie!" exclaims the girl, "I'm not Jennie, I'm Maggie Gilligan. It's a pity if I can't come into a movie house with a long dead escort without being annoyed by a perfect stranger who has been in the spirit world only half as long as I have."

THERE'S NO TELLING how far the Bridey influence will go in pictures. We might even see a movie theater advertising Donald Duck in "ectoplasm" and offering a psychic Mickey Mouse. There could be two plain and simple ghost stories offered as a double feature. As James Whitcomb Riley might say:

And little Orphant Annie says when the blaze is blue,
An' the lampwicks sputter an' the wind goes woo-oo,
You better mind yer parents and yer teachers fond and dear,
An churish them that loves you, an' dry the orphant's tear
An' help the poor and needy ones that clusters all about;
Bridey Murphy films will git you ef you don't watch out!

THIRTY-THREE HORSES were auctioned at Belmont for $600,000 and we think the bidding was lively because, in buying a horse, you don't have to worry about what's basic and what comes extra . . . The eyes, ears, legs, hooves, mane and tail are all standard equipment and if you get a critter for $5,000 you get the whole business.

For the first time in history the Ford Motor Company had a stockholders' meeting in the sense of public participation this week . . . Fourteen tents were needed at Dearborn and in the flood of questions about the stock decline it seemed for the first time in Ford history the people developed a rattle.

10 YEARS AGO — Meeting an emergency caused by the railroad strike, the Fairfield Engineering Co. announced the plant would close down the following week unless the strike ended before that time.

A small fraction of normal railway service through Marion was in operation as officials of the Erie and Big Four railroads attempted to untangle freight and passenger traffic and operate trains with emergency crews.

Threats of shortages in many food products and groceries due to the railroad strike brought an army of housewives into Marion's grocery stores, searching for last loaves of bread and last pounds of butter.

Passenger Terminals' Upkeep NYC Headache

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The chiefs of the New York Central Railroad have declared that something will have to be done about the tremendous cost of operating passenger stations in New York, Cleveland, Buffalo, Chicago and Cincinnati.

Board Chairman Robert R. Young and President Alfred E. Perlman asserted at the railroad's annual meeting Thursday that the cost was draining revenues from the road.

"Is it any wonder," Perlman asked, "that we are working right now to find out how we can give away, sell or tear down passenger stations that cost us a fortune in taxes and maintenance?"

Coach Terry Brennan of Notre Dame was the leading ground gainer in the Irish scoreless tie against Army in 1946.

Bible Words for Today

PSALMS 119:11—"I have laid up thy word in my heart, that I might not sin against thee." (RSV)

When a Sunday School teacher wrote this verse in a Bible in white ink and gave it to me, a small boy, it had little meaning for me. Today the words have more significance.

The word of God is an unchanging word that can be laid away in our hearts. It is a dynamic word which acts as a purifier of thought and mind. The word of God laid up on a shelf at home is of symbolic value. The word of God laid up in the heart is of intrinsic value. Because of its very nature, it will keep man from sin. The word of God is a word out of this world. It has a touch of divinity that challenges every fiber of a man's being.

The Sunday School teacher may only have copied this verse because it is widely quoted, but it has a real meaning. The word of God does keep us from sin. It will give a man a clean mind and a pure heart.

Methodist Group Backs Plan For $4 Million Ohio Seminary

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP) — More than 200 Methodist leaders meeting here Thursday night endorsed a plan to raise a minimum of four million dollars for a new Methodist theological seminary in Ohio.

A concurrent meeting by other church leaders approved a plan for a year-long study of church building needs in the state The group heard the Rev. Dr. F. Lee Whiteman of Youngstown, chairman of a study committee on church extension needs declare that a minimum of 120 new churches is needed in Ohio in the next four years if Methodism is to keep pace with population growth.

The proposal to raise funds over the next four years for a new seminary follows the recent action of the Methodist General Conference in Minneapolis calling for two new seminaries, one in Ohio and the other in the Kansas-Nebraska area. The location of the new seminary has not yet been determined.

In addition to the fund raising campaign the group also proposed a study of the capital fund needs of four Ohio Methodist colleges, Mount Union, Baldwin - Wallace, Ohio Northern and Ohio Wesleyan.

All three proposals will be presented at the Ohio and the North-East Ohio conferences of the church in June.

Auto Industry Unemployed Increase Seen

Michigan Factories Predicting Average Of 200,000 Jobless

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan's unemployment probably will average 200,000—one-twelfth of its labor force—for the remainder of the year, the Michigan Employment Security Commission said today.

Current jobless rolls stand at 220,000, with 128,000 of the total in the metropolitan Detroit area, which has been declared by the federal government a region of "critical unemployment," along with Flint and Monroe.

Likely To Get Worse

Henry Ford II, president, told stockholders of the Ford Motor Co. at their first meeting Thursday that the automobile business is likely to get worse before it gets better this year.

Leonard Woodcock, vice president of the United Auto Workers in charge of the General Motors Division, estimated 90,000 GM workers now are idle and predicted the figure would go past 100,000 by the end of June.

There were two bright economic spots, however

All auto, aviation and farm equipment workers, except those at Chrysler Corp., will get a 7-cent hourly wage increase June 1. Chrysler workers got a 6-cent boost April 1 and will get only one more penny a week hence.

One cent of the increase is to compensate workers for the increased cost of living. A 6-cent hourly increase is provided annually to compensate workers for technological advancements that provide less costly and more efficient production.

The new 7 cents will raise to approximately $2.19 hourly the average pay of auto workers still on the job.

$65 Million in Contracts

The Army's Ordnance Tank-Automotive Command announced it planned to award more than 65 million dollars worth of defense contracts in the Detroit area in the next month.

Lt. Col. Samuel M. Burney, procurement and production chief of the command's industrial division, said the orders have "absolutely no connection" with federal action making the three cities eligible for preferential treatment. He said the pending contracts were "in the mill" before the designation was made.

Ford told his stockholders that retail sales of automobiles will be down and profits substantially lower than last year, but he termed prospects for the future as "particularly bright."

The state employment commission predicted Michigan's peak employment will come in late July or early August, periods in which automakers are expected to begin recalling workers for 1957 model production.

Assails 'Weird Charges'

Adlai Lashes Kefauver Tactics in Florida Race

By The Associated Press

Adlai Stevenson has accused Sen. Estes Kefauver of uttering "weird charges" against him in an effort to win the critical Florida Democratic presidential primary next Tuesday.

"I should like to remind the nervous gentleman that there is such a thing as wanting to be president too much," Stevenson said in West Palm Beach.

What prompted this shaft at Kefauver Thursday was the senator's statement at Plant City, Fla., calling it "a remarkable thing that Mr. Stevenson has been so strangely silent" on what Kefauver called the "question of growing monopoly." The senator linked this with an assertion that Stevenson represented the Radio Corp. of America last year in an antitrust action which Kefauver said was brought by the federal government.

"Wrong Again"

Stevenson retorted that Kefauver is "wrong again," adding:

"I have never represented the Radio Corp. of America in an antitrust suit brought by the government. It was a private suit between RCA and the Zenith Radio Corp."

Kefauver went on the offensive as he and Stevenson battled to the wire for Florida's 28 votes at the Democratic presidential nominating convention in August.

Thursday, the senator wheeled out the "bossism" issue that his supporters believe worked so well for him in Minnesota, where he upset Stevenson in the March 20 primary. He did so after six of Florida's seven Democratic congressmen endorsed Stevenson's candidacy.

People who gathered to listen to his street corner talks heard the senator say, "No little handful of people should select the nominee and no handful of people should speak for the people of Florida."

Raps GOP

While barrying Kefauver's assaults, Stevenson got in some licks against the Republicans.

"The important issue this year is not between Sen. Kefauver and me," he said. "It is rather between those who really believe in the principles of the Democratic party and those who only pretend they do for purposes of political expediency."

Stevenson said the Republican party is "incapable of conducting a coherent, consistent foreign policy." On domestic matters, he said the Republicans have been inactive in development of water resources, broadening social security, and aiding small business. He spoke of "three years of talk about a federal highway program."

Calls for Debate

In Miami Beach, F. Joseph Donohue, Kefauver's national campaign manager, challenged former Gov. Millard F. Caldwell of Florida to debate the civil rights records of Kefauver and Stevenson.

Earlier this week, Caldwell—a delegate candidate on the Stevenson slate—quoted a newspaper editorial which called Kefauver an "integrationist." Donohue said Stevenson began racial integration in the Navy and worked for a fair employment practices commission in Illinois. Stevenson, who served as an assistant to the secretary of the Navy in World War II, is a former governor of Illinois.

At Tallahassee, Caldwell said "I don't have time" to debate with Donohue.

New Automobiles Are Featured in Downtown Parade

An estimated "several hundred" people watched a parade of some 50 new 1956 model automobiles through downtown Marion Thursday night.

The event was the highlight of Automobile Fashion Festival being staged by the Marion County Automobile Association of the Marion Chamber of Commerce.

In addition to the new cars the parade featured the Cavaliers Drum and Bugle Corps and a unit of school safety patrolmen from city schools which marched as a group under the direction of Patrolman D. L. Everly.

The fashion festival continues through Saturday night with new cars on display both in parking spaces in the business district and in dealer's showrooms.

Saturday night the festival will feature a street dance at 8 p.m. on S. Main St. between Center and Church Sts. with the music to be provided by the Chcuk Wagon Pals. During the dance, winners of a safety contest for boys and girls will be announced.

Traffic Cases In City Court

Two minor no-injury traffic accidents were investigated Thursday by Marion police. State patrolmen reported no accidents in the county and sheriff's deputies investigated one.

A collision at an alley intersection at the rear of the 200 block of S. Main St. at 9:22 p.m. involved cars driven by Howard Grubb Jr., 18, of 753 Fairfield St., and R. E. Hill Jr., 18, of 616 Jefferson St. The impact of the collision sent the Hill car out of control into the corner of a store building, damaging it slightly.

The other accident in the city caused less than $100 in damages, police estimated.

Richwood Man Hurt

Sterling Graham, 57, of Richwood was hospitalized this morning following a highway crash one-half mile west of the intersection of Route 4 and 47.

Graham was the driver of a farm tractor and trailer which was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Ruth E. Thomas, 81, of near Prospect, sheriff's deputies reported.

Deputies said two tractors were traveling on Route 4. Mrs. Thomas came from behind and passed one of the tractors, but her car hit the second tractor being driven by Graham. Deputies said he was thrown 15 steps from the tractor and the vehicle continued on, stopping only after striking a tree.

Mrs. Thomas was issued a citation to appear on a charge of reckless operation at a later date. Graham was taken to Marion General Hospital for treatment of his injuries.

Woman Slays 3 Daughters, Wounds Self

'Model Mother' Fails To Give Explanation For Florida Tragedy

LAKE WALES, Fla. (AP)—A woman described as a "model mother" killed her three daughters today, placed them carefully in their beds, then fired two pistol bullets into her own breast.

Mrs. Lorene Calbeck, in critical condition in a hospital, told Patrolman S. D. Betton that she killed her children, Shirley, 5, Pamela, 3, and Jan, 1, but refused to give a reason. Doctors said she is not expected to live.

Police entered Mrs. Calbeck's trailer home at 1:30 a. m. and found the bodies of the children in their beds and the mother on the floor.

Leaves Note

Mrs. Calbeck, who is in her late 30s, left a note to her husband, Mark Calbeck of Sault Ste Marie, Mich., telling him he would find her valuables and "a very important black Bible" in a suitcase under her bed. Police could not find a suitcase.

She did not explain her action to her husband.

Police Chief Tom Petty said Mrs. Calbeck took the girls out in her car one at a time, stripped them except for their panties, killed them and brought the bodies back to the trailer.

Shirley was shot four times, the others twice each.

"I did the shooting of the children by myself," Mrs. Calbeck said in a statement to Betton. When he pressed her for an explanation, she cried "I don't want to talk about it any more!"

Model Mother

Neighbors in the trailer camp at the northern city limits of Lake Wales described Mrs. Calbeck as a "model mother" who devoted almost her entire time to care of her children.

Her trailer was a large model and well furnished and neighbors said she apparently was not in need of money.

She moved into the camp about three years ago and had lived there since except for a brief period last summer when she drove back to Michigan.

Neighbors said she corresponded regularly with her husband and when the children had birthdays they received gifts from their father.

Shortly after midnight, Mrs. Calbeck telephoned the family doctor and asked him to come to the trailer in about half an hour Tied up on an emergency case, he called police and asked them to go out, saying he felt "there is something wrong."

Cut It Out, U.S. Warns

Communist Strong Arm Tactics on Refugees Hit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has told Communist "come-back-home" campaigners that strong arm tactics will not be tolerated on refugees in this country.

A White House statement Thursday declared that "the right of asylum is one of the treasured traditions of free peoples," and it added:

"The United States is taking action against instances of improper and irregular pressure by officials of foreign governments seeking to influence persons who have sought asylum in this country.

"The United States has already taken steps which make clear its determination to extend the full protection of American laws to all aliens residing here."

The statement was issued shortly after the Senate Internal Security subcommittee demanded expulsion of Arkady Sobolev, Soviet chief delegate to the United Nations, and a top aide. It said Sobolev's staff used "coercion, force and duress" on five Russian seamen who suddenly flew back to Russia under heavy Soviet escort last April 7. They had been granted U.S. sanctuary.

The State Department took the subcommittee's demand under advisement. But officials said privately they saw little likelihood Sobolev would be expelled. Two of his lesser aides were kicked out soon after the April 7 incident.

Officials said the prime U.S. aim is to reassure any persons subjected to pressure that the force of the U.S. government is behind them if they want to resist.

Ike

tion among the free nations in fostering mutual trade, advancing "legitimate political and economic aspirations," respect for cultural traditions, and help for the weaker nations from the strong.

Then he outlined his education proposal in this way:

"The ways in which progress along these four roads can be achieved are legion in number. The first . . . is the need for the growth and spread of understanding among our own people. The next is that peoples of other nations must, through similar study and thought, recognize with us the need for this kind of cooperation. This, in itself, is not easy.

Need Resources

"Many nations, though their cultures are ancient and rich in human values, do not possess the resources to spread the needed education throughout their populations. But they can wisely use help that respects their traditions and ways.

"For example, the whole free world would be stronger if there existed adequate institutions of modern techniques and sciences in areas of the world where the hunger for knowledge and the ability to use knowledge are unsatisfied because educational facilities are often not equal of the existing need.

"Do we find here a worthy challenge to America's universities and to their graduates? I firmly believe that if some or all of our great universities, strongly supported by private foundations that exist in number throughout our land, sparked by the zeal and fire of educated Americans would devote themselves to this task, the prospects for a peaceful and prosperous world be mightily enhanced.

No Propaganda

"In no respect would the purpose of these institutions be to transplant into a new area the attitudes, the forms, the procedures of America. The staffing, the conduct, the curriculum of each school would be the responsibility of the people where the school might be built.

"Each school would help each nation develop its human and natural resources, and also provide a great two-way avenue of communication. We would gain new knowledge and wisdom out of the priceless values of other peoples' traditions and proud heritage. They would gain knowledge in the technical and scientific fields where we have had an earlier start."

Summing up the proposal he set forth, Eisenhower said:

"Such a voluntary effort in people-to-people partnership would be a dynamic, a fruitful corollary to three elements already effectively at work in our governmental foreign policy."

Dealing with the world situation generally in relations to the Communist menace, Eisenhower said:

"Security cannot be achieved by arms alone, no matter how destructive the weapons or how large their accumulation.

Vitally Important

"So today it is vitally important that we and others detect and pursue the ways in which cultural and economic assistance will mean more to free world strength, stability and solidarity than will purely military measures."

In stressing a need for cooperation among the free nations in the struggle against communism, Eisenhower picked Western Europe as an example.

He said the statesmen of that area "have long been aware that only in broad and effective cooperation . . . can true security for all be found."

The President said "much progress has been made" toward European unity despite continuing obstacles. One phase of the progress, he said, is reflected in the recent decision of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to have a committee of foreign ministers study "ways and means to improve and extend cooperation in non-military fields and to develop greater unity within the Atlantic community."

In that connection, Eisenhower noted that Sen. George (D-Ga), planning retirement from the Senate, has agreed to serve as his personal representative and special ambassador in the NATO setup.

Car Inspection Continued by Jaycees Here

Inspection of automobiles from a check lane operated on the east side of Forest Lawn Blvd. between E. Center and E. Church Sts. by the Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce will continue from 6 to 8 p.m. tonight and all day Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p m

Members of the Jaycees give each car passing through the checklane a 10-point inspection to uncover any defects in safety equipment. The equipment covered includes the brakes, headlights, rear and stop lights, tires, exhaust system and muffler, windshield wipers, glass, horn and rear view mirror

Each vehicle which passes the inspection is given a windshield sticker showing that it has been checked and found to be in proper operating condition.

Local chairman of the program here is William J. Haubert Jr. who urged that all drivers in the community visit the safety check lane tonight or tomorrow.

Housing

voted for the Eisenhower program.

The Senate had voted for 135,000 units last year also, while the House voted none. The two houses finally reached agreement on 45,000 for one year.

In 1953 the Senate voted 35,000, the House none; they compromised at 20,000. Not since 1952 has the House, on its own, voted any such authority, and that year it approved only 5,000 units.

The low-rent housing projects are built by local housing authorities, but the federal government provides subsidies to help with operating costs and bond retirement.

The Senate accepted a one-year extension, to July 25, 1958, in the GI home loan program. Sen. Lehman (D-NY) originally proposed a three-year extension, but Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said this was unacceptable.

Next Move Up to Soviets

Washington Still Seeks Word on Visit to Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Official Washington cocked an eye on the postman today to see if he would bring an invitation to the Joint Chiefs of Staff to visit Moscow.

In what appeared on the surface to be a hint for such an invitation, the White House and the Pentagon said Thursday none had been received but if one was forthcoming without too many restrictions, the nation's top military men probably would accept.

Up to Russians

That left the next move up to the Russians, who had suggested they would welcome two or three Air Force officers to Aviation Day ceremonies in Moscow June 24.

There was no official word, however, that they had in mind the top uniformed officials of the Army, Navy and Air Force and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, the Joint Chiefs chairman

The most complete version of what has taken place came from the usually close-mouthed Soviet Embassy here.

It said that on Monday a Russian colonel attached to the embassy asked a U S Air Force colonel to convey to Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, an invitation to send several high American Air Force officers to the Aviation Day Celebration.

Radford Sees Ike

Late Tuesday, it was learned, Twining reported this invitation to Radford, who saw President Eisenhower and presumably mentioned it

Somewhere along the line a decision was made to say enough publicly to encourage the Russians to extend a welcome to the Joint Chiefs.

Reaction on Captiol Hill was generally favorable while somewhat skeptical toward the Russian overture Chairman Russell (D-Ga) of the Armed Services Committee said: "I do not trust the Russians but I see no harm in accepting their invitations for legitimate interchange."

'Some Good Could Come'

He added that "some good could come from intermingling and a fair exchange of information."

"And I believe I would favor inviting Marshal Zhukov and others for a return visit here," Russell said, referring to the Soviet defense minister, Georgi Zhukov.

Sen. Anderson (D-NM), chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, also approved.

"I think they should go over there and find out what the Russians are doing," he said. "We are learning a lot about the Russian program. Maybe if some of our leaders see what they are doing they would come back here and help step up our own programs."

Sen. Bridges (R-NH), senior minority member of the Armed Services and Appropriations committees said, however, that he is "personally suspicious."

British Get Bid

LONDON (AP) — Premier Nikolai Bulganin has invited British Air Minister Nigel Birch and a group of senior Royal Air Force officers to attend Soviet Aviation Day ceremonies in Moscow June 24, the Air Ministry announced today.

"We have the invitation under consideration," a spokesman for the ministry said It came through the Soviet Embassy.

Killed in Crash

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—Albert P Fall, about 60, of Toledo, was killed Thursday night when the automobile in which he was riding was hit by a truck on Ohio 303 five miles southwest of here.

Dayton Man Flees, Is Killed At Roadblock

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP)—A Dayton, Ohio, man fleeing from police drove a stolen car at 100 miles an hour under a semi-trailer parked across U.S. 40 west of here early today killing himself.

He was identified as Henry C. Moore, 47. Police said he robbed Charles Koehler, 49, Indianapolis, in Indianapolis earlier in the night and took the car and $30.

Richmond police, warned by radio that Moore was headed this way, set up the roadblock. The top of the car Moore was driving was sheared off by the trailer but the rest went under the vehicle and hit a utility pole 220 feet away. A Richmond police car was chasing Moore and clocked his speed.

The Richmond police were warned by Marshal Earl Gentry of Cambridge City, west of here on U.S. 40. Gentry had stopped Moore as a possible drunk and was talking to him when the radio carried the state police warning about the Indianapolis robbery. Moore grabbed Gentry's gun, forced him to walk away and then sped off in the stolen car.

Police said Moore had a long police record.

Schools

told the county board. He added that 13 persons were undecided.

All told, it was estimated that approximately 84 per cent of the residents of the three districts combined were in favor of the proposed consolidation The county board had said it would approve the merger if 51 per cent favored the move.

Following approval of the merger, County Supt. of Schools D. T. Mills explained that there would now exist a 30-day period during which any person or persons could remonstrate against the merger.

Need New Name

In the meantime, he pointed out, the three boards should decide on a name for their new district.

Since the new district would, according to law, have to have its own school board, considerable discussion was held on how best to select the five necessary members. It was finally decided that each board would select names of two members. They would be turned over to the county board which would, by mid-June, choose from the six names the five men who would decide the policies of the new district.

Mr. Mills pointed out that those individuals would operate only until the next general election in which school board members are chosen — the fall of 1957, at which time the voters of the consolidated district would have an opportunity to choose the board representatives.

Two names were offered in consideration for the new district — "Fairview" and "Me-Mo-Grand," using, in the latter instance, the first two letters of Meeker and Morral, respectively, and the Grand from the Grand Prairie district.

The name must, according to law, be decided upon before the district's board can begin functioning, and will probably be determined sometime before the 30-day remonstrance period ends.

$500,000 Suggested

With its combined tax duplicate, expenditure of approximately $733,315 could be authorized for building a central high school, but spokesmen for the three districts have indicated that a bond issue for the full amount probably will not be asked.

Current plans call for a bond issue of perhaps $500,000, with the exact amount to be determined after architects are consulted and preliminary plans drawn up.

The new school will, according to tentative plans, be built to accommodate approximately 350 students in the four high grades, with the heating system, cafeteria and other facilities designed to serve any possible future building expansion and an enrollment of 500 youngsters.

At a public meeting of the Grand Prairie school board in late April, it was pointed out that state aid for the new school could probably not be obtained owing to the high tax valuation of the district and its relatively low amount of indebtedness.

If the bond issue for the school is passed in November, the goal of the district would be to have the building ready for use by September, 1957. But, it has been readily agreed that such a hope is a highly optimistic one.

In other county board action, it was decided to employ Norman C. Roettger, superintendent of the Green Camp School, to assist in the office of Mr. Mills for the month of June at a salary of $350.

Mr. Mills said he had three applications for the job left vacant by the recent resignation of Ivan R. Barnhart and the board set tentative mid-June dates for interviews

Other members of the board present besides Mr. Mills were Ralph Williams, board president; William Knowles, vice president, and Edward Carey, Clifford Wenig and H. Clay Smith.

Resign Under Fire

2 Liquor Agents Ousted After Admitting Bribes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two state liquor agents resigned under fire today after they admitted receiving $50 payments from a Hocking County tavernkeeper. Liquor Director William C. Bryant said he demanded the resignations of William D. George, 25, of Columbus and Henry A. Gravitt, 31, of Zanesville.

All information obtained in his investigation will be turned over "to the duly constituted authorities in the county where the operative facts occurred," Bryant said in a prepared statement.

All-Day Hearing Held

Bryant reported the forced resignations came after an all-day hearing based on a complaint received earlier in the month from Orville Lunsford, 39, of Laurelville, proprietor of a beer and wine tavern on Ohio 327.

Lunsford reported to the liquor department, Bryant said that he had made five to seven payments over a period of months to Gravitt and George.

Lunsford said the payments were to have complaints against him killed.

In Thursday's hearing, Bryant said, Gravitt admitted he received a payment of $50 on April 13, but denied he received any others. George said he got a $50 payment April 30, but also denied any others, Bryant said.

Both Gravitt and George told Bryant no threats were used to obtain the money.

Bryant gave this statement to newsmen:

"Immediately upon receiving the information from Orville Lunsford that he had paid sums of money to field agents employed in the enforcement division of this department, I ordered a complete investigation.

"Every known witness was interrogated and all of the facts were ascertained after which the accused and the accuser were brought face to face. When it was ascertained that these two men had received money from this permit holder, their resignations were demanded and were forthwith given.

"All the facts in our possession will be made available to the duly constituted authorities in the county where the operative facts occurred.

"We are continuing the investigation to ascertain if any other person is involved in this case.

"I cannot emphasize too strongly that we will not tolerate this sort of transaction. It should be emphasized that our efforts to prevent such occurrences will be made more effective if we receive immediate word from a permit holder if any suggestion of this kind is ever made. No permit holder should ever permit himself to become a party to any such transaction. We have heretofore pledged ourselves to stamp out any such practice and I intend to pursue that course with unrelenting vigor."

Grand Jury

moved to other quarters on the ground floor.

The jury said that recommendations of the January grand jury had not been acted on and requested that copies of this report be mailed to the state fire marshal's office in Columbus, and the Marion County Health Department.

The jury reported that because of the large amount of work, employes of the sheriff's office have been required to work from 65 to 70 hours per week They recommended that additional persons be employed and that hours of all employes be cut to conform to hours worked by other county employes and police officers.

Scouters Are Given Salute By President

1,500 at Cincinnati Conference Hear of Need To Train Youth

CINCINNATI (AP) — President Eisenhower today saluted the Boy Scouts and scout leaders by telegram and said, "Never has there been a greater need to train youth in citizenship and character and physical fitness."

A message from the President was read as approximately 1,500 adult leaders of the Boy Scouts of America opened a two-day meeting of their National Council.

The President, who is honorary president of the Boy Scouts, said, "our need for participating citizenship, built upon a strong spiritual foundation, is an urgent demand which we must heed.

"I am happy to salute the million and more volunteer leaders engaged in this essential and vitally important service to our country and to commend them for their dedicated service to boyhood."

Dr. Arthur A Schuck of Short Hills, N J, chief scout executive, reported to the group that there now are more than three million boy members in more than 100,000 Cub Scout packs, Boy Scout troops and Explorer units

He declared, however, that the adult scout leaders "face our greatest challenge in the years ahead."

"As one of the nation's greatest agencies for the training of youth," he said, "the Boy Scouts of America faces the most challenging responsibility in its history We leaders in scouting have made commitments to America to train the youth of our nation in character and good citizenship, and, by our commitments, we have become stewards of a great trust

"What is happening in the lives of boys in America today may well determine the course of events of the entire world in the future We must train our youth in larger numbers in patriotism, character, intelligent citizenship, and appreciation of the free way of life and a dedication to high spiritual ideals."

WHETHER IT'S A DISASTER or a war, the Red Cross will be on the job just as it has for the past 75 years. Clara Barton, founder of the American Red Cross, supervised nurses in the Spanish-American war and its workers have been with U. S. fighting forces since then, both in the field and back home. Workers also send millions of packages for prisoners of war. On the homefront, feeding stations and hospital facilities are on scene at floods, train wrecks and other disasters. The busy Red Cross can take time out for well-deserved praise.

Snob in Red

By George Sokolsky

SOKOLSKY

What is becoming increasingly obvious is that when Bulganin and Khrushchev attended the socialist meeting and dinner in London, Khrushchev acted normally. He acted as the Bolshevik boss is impelled to do among a lot of Mensheviks whom he despised as every Bolshevik despises every other kind of Socialist throughout the world. Khrushchev acted in precisely the same way with French Premier Mollet who is also a Socialist but not a Communist.

When the Socialist Democratic party of Russia split in 1903 into two branches, the Bolsheviks and the Mensheviks, the majority and the minority, a profound hatred developed between them unparalleled among other political parties. Trotzky, who had been a Menshevik prior to the Russian Revolution of 1917, never fully gained the confidence of the Bolsheviks even though Lenin made him the second man in the Communist hierarchy.

THE BRITISH Labor party is a socialist party consisting of Fabian Socialists, orthodox Second International Social Democrats, a few fellow-travellers who are sufficiently left-wing to be regarded as closer to the Communists than they should be. To a Bolshevik boss, such as Khrushchev whose life-work has been in the party apparatus, the very existence of such people is an offense. Therefore, he acted toward them with the bad manners that an underbred person displays when he finds himself in distasteful company.

The Russian Communists have a particular contempt for the parliamentary system which they have never employed in their own or any satellite country. The last time that anything approaching such a body met in Russia was the Constituent Assembly in 1918 which the Bolsheviks forced to close down.

The 20 congresses of the Russian Communist party have not been parliamentary in form because no opposition to the leadership is tolerated.

IT IS ALMOST possible to identify an American with Communist leanings by his tendency to oppose the existence of the American Congress, although less is being said about that now than in the 1930's.

The British Socialists are parliamentarians who expect to achieve great social reforms within the limitations of the British Constitution and by parliamentary methods. Whether for better or for worse they have been very successful and were in control of the British government from 1945 to 1951 when the Conservatives were returned.

Another point needs to be made. Great Britain, for about three centuries, dominated the world not only by superior arms but by unusual capacity in all branches of economy and an extraordinary feeling for order. The Russians look upon Great Britain now as a minor power whose empire has been broken and is historically lost.

TO A MAN of Khrushchev's training, Great Britain is, at most, a bridge to the United States and to the remaining countries of the capitalistic world. Among the capitalistic world, Khrushchev would include all non-Communist countries even such as regard themselves as Socialistic but are not Bolshevik.

To Khrushchev such countries as Red China and India are more important than Great Britain and France because of their enormous populations, their raw materials and their potentials in the formation of a complex for world conquest in the Marxist cause.

Those in Britain who believe that they can come to a permanent arrangement with Soviet Russia that can be favorable to Great Britain are only fooling themselves.

Sir Anthony Eden seems to be pursuing a course which, while it might temporarily be embarrassing to the British Socialists and to the United States, must ultimately be permanently damaging to Great Britain and possibly to the whole Western world. He is perhaps inadvertently encouraging the Russians to believe that they can accomplish a separation between Great Britain and the United States with the promise to lessen anti-British developments in the Far East and the Middle East.

IT MAY NOT be the "beginning of the beginning," as Eden suggested, it could be the end of many things.

It is doubtful that Khrushchev can deliver anything helpful to Great Britain in the Cyprus, Egyptian Singapore or Israel-Arab situations, but Khrushchev can and probably already is at work creating disturbances within the British Labor party. In such activities, the Bolsheviks are virtuosi.

Although such disorders could temporarily strengthen the capitalistic conservatives, to a Bolshevik that is meaningless. They do not dislike conservatives as much as they do different kinds of socialists.

Gunmen Get $2,000

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two gunmen Thursday night entered Pawuk's Bar on Brookpark Road. One of the men forced eight customers and the bartender to keep their hands on the bar while the other took $2,000 from the cash register and put it in a black bag. Mrs. Pazia Pawuk, the owner, was ordered to open a safe in the back room. Mrs. Pawuk said she was so frightened she forgot the combination and the man finally gave up waiting. The safe contained another $2,000, she said.

Freed in Burglary

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP)—Legless George L. Noble, 36, of Merrimack, was acquitted of a burglary charge in superior court Thursday night.

The charge against Noble was based on alleged crutch marks found in the snow on the roof of a burglarized Nashua restaurant.

Noble, father of four, lost his legs in a train accident when he was 18 months old.

Indian-Lore Fading

By Hal Boyle

PINEY GROVE, N.C. (AP)—Time is winning a slow victory over Mrs. Aggie Lossiah, custodian of a dying past.

Aggie, who is going on 76, is one of the few remaining Cherokee Indian women with a first-hand knowlegde of old tribal ways customs.

HAL BOYLE

As a young girl, Mrs. Lossiah, now a widow, walked 170 miles across the mountains to set up housekeeping on a small hill-side farm where she has lived more than half a century.

SITTING ON THE cabin porch, her stockinged feet comfortably stretched out to feel a cooling breeze, Aggie said gravely:

"It's all gone to the modern times. Things are changing just as fast as they can change."

The honk of a motor car echoed up from a modern highway where stumbling oxen once plodded. The sound stirred Aggie to reverie.

"We sold our last ox to send our oldest boy off to college," she remarked.

Aggie and her husband raised eight children and five of their grandchildren.

"I got so many grandchildren I can't count them," she said.

MRS. LOSSIAH is full of ancient Cherokee hill lore. She used to make her own soap. She still knows the art of making such Indian delicacies as bean bread, possum grape drink and meat skin soup. She knows how to brew the native herb remedies — ginseng for colic, boneset for pneumonia, wild cherry for measles, Christmas fern for fever.

"But when people get sick now they run to the doctor to get a pill," she remarked. "I never had a doctor until this spring, when I spent a spell in the hospital."

Aggie didn't want to go to a hospital. She had to be talked into it. She has no desire to adjust to modern times, has a deep contempt for new kitchen gadgets. She never has had a home with central heating. She still prefers to cook her meals in an iron pot in her fireplace.

"I DON'T LIKE a stove," Aggie said. "I wouldn't live in a house without a fireplace.

"Food tastes better cooked in an iron pot in a fireplace than in an aluminum pot on a stove.

"Women today seem to think they have a better life because they don't have anything to do. But I think folks were happier in my day when they worked harder.

"In my day a girl knew how to hoe corn . . . to make a garden . . . to dig in the dirt like a man. Many even knew how to drive oxen and plow the field.

"Now it seems like girls are afraid to work out in the fields with their parents. There're a lot of changes."

"As I got up to leave, Aggie asked where I lived. When I told her I came from New York City, she nodded and said politely.

"Is it a big city? I've heard of it, yes. I've heard of it. I heard it's a terribly muddy place."

Street Supervisor Hurt In Blaze at Caledonia

Fire destroyed a village tar wagon and slightly injured a workman in Caledonia Thursday.

Edgar Fink, Caledonia street supervisor, suffered burns on the face and hands in the fire which occurred at 10 a.m.

According to the Caledonia Fire Department which investigated, Mr. Fink was drawing tar out of the tank when the hot tar exploded.

The fire resulted from tar overflowing out of the trailer and running onto heaters below, the Caledonia fire department reported.

The accident happened as workmen were repairing S. Water St. Damage to the wagon was estimated at $500.

Naphtha Tank Truck Blast Is Fatal to Driver

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A highly volatile tank-truck load of naptha oil and gasoline exploded early today at the plant of the Max J. Zeller Co., just south of Columbus, and Sheriff's Sgt. James Richardson said the driver of the truck was "blown apart."

The truck explosion apparently set off a 10,000 gallon tank into which the tank truck load of oil and gas was being unloaded. The two explosions were heard several miles from the plant, Richardson said.

The sergeant identified the victim as Joshua Talbert, 24, of Columbus, driver for Reis Bros. Inc., Columbus. He said Talbert was scheduled to bring the 20,000 gallon tank-truck load in last night from Cincinnati to the Zeller plant, where it is used in making asphalt.

A fire following the explosion burned for 1½ hours before firemen from two townships brought it under control.

Loss was confined to the tank and truck, Richardson said. There was no immediate estimate of the damage.

Cause of the explosion was not known, and Richardson said it may be impossible to determine.

Cleveland Boy Takes Stand in $1 Million Suit

CLEVELAND (AP)—A frightened 8-year-old boy, center of a million dollar law suit, was wheeled into a crowded courtroom Thursday.

His mother's lawyer, who wanted to show the jury that a brain injury had affected the boy's speech, stooped beside the wheelchair and asked him his name and address.

The chubby, blond boy answered in a strained, halting voice, with long pauses between words, "Carl Berry, 6719 Canal Road, Valley View."

"That satisfies me," said his attorney, Craig Spangenberg, as he had the boy wheeled out

"I'm sure it does," said S. Burns Weston, attorney for the defendant, DeWitt Motors, Inc., of Akron.

Weston moved for a mistrial based on the boy's appearance, but he was overruled by Common Pleas Judge Arthur H. Day.

The boy's mother asks a million dollar damages from the Akron firm, charging a car driven by one of its employes hit her son as he alighted from a school bus in front of his home last June 24.

Dr. Andre A. Weil, a Cleveland psychiatrist, said he had taken an electroencephalogram, a method of recording brain waves, of the boy after the accident, and that the graphs were "definitely abnormal." He said he could not tell the cause of the abnormality.

Dr. Herman D. Arbitman, a psychologist, testified the boy's intelligence quotient had dropped 23 points since the accident, and he showed poor co-ordination when reaching for testing blocks.

Gov. Gary Supporting New Yorker

Harriman Gets Oklahoma Backing

Jack Bell, veteran Associated Press political writer, surveys Democratic presidential developments in Oklahoma, border state carried by Eisenhower in 1952.

By JACK BELL

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — New York Gov. Averell Harriman has established a Southwestern beachhead of Oklahoma support in the Democratic presidential contest but his claim on the state's 28 nominating votes appears shaky.

Gov. Raymond Gary of Oklahoma, who plans to lead his state's delegation into the Harriman camp, indicated today he is ready to climb quickly aboard any bandwagon he sees rolling at the Chicago national convention.

"We want the party to pick the man who appears to be the strongest candidate for president," Gary said in an interview. "My personal preference is for Gov. Harriman but there are others I could support."

IN THE LATTER category, Gary listed Aldai E. Stevenson, the 1952 party standardbearer who is seeking this year's nomination, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Oklahoma's support is important to Harriman because it gives him grounds to claim that he has strength in a farm - oil, border state President Eisenhower carried in 1952 by a surprising 87,000 margin out of about 950,000 votes.

Gary made it plain he expects Harriman to get the state's 28 votes on the first ballot. But he said:

"We from Oklahoma hope to be able to be voting with the majority when the final decision is made on the nomination."

IT HAS BEEN a sore point among Oklahoma Democrats that their state missed the nomination boat at the 1952 convention by continuing to cast its vote for the late Alben W. Barkley on the third ballot when Stevenson was nominated.

Although many Democrats disagree, Gary said he thinks Harriman would run a stronger race in Oklahoma against Eisenhower than any other candidate. He insisted the New York governor has a greater "grass roots" appeal, for instance, than Stevenson.

"Stevenson is a brilliant and a good man," Gary said. "He would make a grand president. But for some reason he doesn't seem to take hold with the rank and file voter at the forks of the creek."

Ancient Korean Crown Found by Road Builders

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — A gold crown adorned with thousands of gems and other articles from a monarchy which began before the dawn of the Christian era have been unearthed near the southeast port of Pusan.

Officials of the National Museum said the articles came from the ancient Sylla dynasty, which lasted for 1,000 years. They were found near Kyongju, capital of the Sylla dynasty.

Road builders came across them in a burial mound. They also found two pairs of gold earrings, a gold bracelet, a gold necklace, a silver bracelet, an iron pot, bronze ware, an iron sword and several pieces of earthenware.

Joint Trial Set For Michigan Trio in Slaying

WAPAKONETA, Ohio (AP)—Three Hazel Park, Mich., youths will be tried jointly for the holdup slaying last Jan. 22 of Charles H. Stolzenbach, Wapakoneta tavernkeeper.

The three were re : indicted Thursday by the Grand Jury. Previously, the three had been indicted by the January Grand Jury, but the charges against one of them, James Thornton, were dropped when it was learned he was only 17. Thornton was 18 Thursday.

The other two youths are William Thomas, 20, and Bernard Harris, 18.

The Grand Jury also indicted Harris, Thomas and Jerry Clouse of Muncie, Ind., for auto theft. The charges grew out of a jail break by the three last March 22. After escaping from the Auglaize County jail, the three fled in an auto to near Muncie where they were recaptured the next day.

Live Virus Leaks

BALTIMORE (AP)—A container of live polio virus, apparently broken when an airport cargo handler dropped a crate, leaked out its contents in an airplane last night. Some swift telephoning brought quick action to immunize all those endangered.

The plane was a Capital Airlines DC4. It took off from Washington.

'Snobburbia' Coined

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "Snobburbia" has taken its place in the language of social workers.

The word crept into discussions at the National Conference of Social Work. It was applied to persons who once lived in blighted areas and then disavow their former connections in order to achieve status with new neighbors.

Asphalt was used by Noah to waterproof the Ark.

Sox, Tribe Open 4-Game Set, Top Hurlers Ready

Cleveland Seeks First Win At Chicago, Doby To Play

CHICAGO (AP)—The Cleveland Indians try for their first victory of the season over the Chicago White Sox tonight.

The two teams haven't met since the opening of the season, when the White Sox won both games of a series. Both were pitchers' battles, with Billy Pierce besting Bob Lemon 2-1 in the opener, and Jack Harshman defeating Herb Score 1-0 in the second game.

Both managers have their top pitchers ready for the four-game series starting tonight, but neither has announced the order.

Manager Marty Marion of the White Sox plans to use Pierce, Harshman, Bob Keegan and Jim Wilson. Chicago obtained Wilson, who has 1-1 mark against Cleveland, from Baltimore this week.

Al Lopez of the Indians has Lemon, Score, Mike Garcia and Early Wynn on tap.

Lopez plans a platoon system in the outfield, using Preston Ward against righthanders Wilson and Keegan, and Rocky Colavito against southpaws Pierce and Harshman.

Larry Doby, former Indian, will be in center field for Chicago. Shortstop Chico Carrasquel and centerfielder Jim Busby, former White Sox, will play for Cleveland. All three principals in the big winter trade are now hitting slightly over .200. Doby hasn't hit a home run yet.

The Indians will have Rudy Regalado at third base, subbing for Al Rosen, who was released from Lakeside Hospital Thursday. Rosen's knee injury will probably keep him out more than a week more.

Drivers Shoot For 4 Berths In '500' Field

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The 33-car lineup for the $250,000, 500-mile race Wednesday will fill up in a noisy, dangerous and confusing shuffle of cars and drivers in final qualifying sessions Saturday and Sunday at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

With 29 cars qualified last weekend at a record-breaking average of 142.896 miles an hour, the scramble will be frantic.

"Car hopping" by drivers hunting faster vehicles and owners looking for hotter pilots will make the printed program a doubtful guide to fans.

The 33 fastest cars of all that run in the four days of qualifications will start in the Memorial Day classic—but not necessarily in the order of their speed.

It works like this:

Cars qualified on the first day of the trials start the lineup. Cars qualified the second day line up in order of speed, back of the first day's qualifiers. The same is true of qualifiers on following days.

Complications set in after 33 cars qualify. The slowest of the 33 can be eliminated, "bumped" in track jargon, by a car qualifying at a higher speed. The car eliminated drops out of the lineup, everybody behind it moves up one position and the "bumper" joins the field at the end.

Pat Flaherty, the Chicago Irishman who won the No. 1 starting spot last Saturday, isn't likely to be bumped. He set a 10-mile record of 145.596 miles an hour and another of 146.056 for one trip around the 2½-mile brick and asphalt track.

Second-fastest qualifier so far is Johnny Thompson of Springfield, Mass., at 145.549 but he ran on the second day and is sitting in the 18th starting position.

Rookie Golfer Sets Pace for Houston Event

DALLAS (AP)—Don January, a Texas freshman in professional golf, led the $30,000 Dallas Centennial Open into its second round today.

Another Texan, veteran Henry Ransom, who plays only a few tournaments a year, was close behind.

January put together a 6-under-par 64 Thursday. The field of 153 was decimated by three who fell out in the wake of a subpar onslaught that saw regulation figures over the tight 6,216-yard Preston Hollow course slaughtered 33 times.

Ransom, the 45-year-old Bryan, Tex., rancher who still plays under the banner of St.Andrews, Ill., had a 65. Bunched at 66 were Mike Souchak, the big ex-Duke football star from Grossinger's, N.Y.; Mario Gonzalez, the National Open champion of Brazil; and hulking Bud Holscher, Apple Valley, Calif.

Few of the big names and heralded favorites could stand the pace. Souchak was the only fellow among those rated strongest for top money to offer a severe threat. Mighty Mike slammed the second nine in a bristling 5-under-par 30 in a grand effort to overtake January.

Ben Hogan, Fort Worth's great who was the pretournament favorite, ran into putting trouble and settled for a 1-over-par 71.

Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio fired a 67.

New Boating Unit To Organize Here

Local boating enthusiasts are attempting to organize a sail boat club here.

Three Marionites who own boats and are interested in the sport are inviting interested persons to contact them.

The three — Edward Adams, Jack Arter and Harold Lloyd — have purchased a dock at the Delaware Dam for their boats. According to them, at least three boats are required for a fleet. They said persons interested in joining the proposed club need not have boats.

Men, as well as women and teenagers are invited to join the club and can obtain further information by contacting Adams at 192 E. Farming St.

PCC Upheaval Clouding Rose Bowl Renewal

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Big Ten policy makers, wrapped in a dilemma over Pacific Coast Conference payoff revelations, met today to weigh renewal of the Rose Bowl contract.

A couple of weeks ago Big Ten approval of an indefinite Rose Bowl arrangement with the Pacific Coast appeared all but automatic.

But crackdowns on UCLA and Washington with the hint of more to come raised a lofty question mark over the meeting of Western Conference faculty representatives.

Up for the action is a proposed "open end" agreement which would do away with the need of periodic renewal by the two conferences. Big Ten schools polled two months ago favored the plan almost unanimously. All it needs here is majority approval.

But the recent West Coast upheavals have spawned sudden doubts about the immediate future of the Pacific Coast Conference, whether in fact, there will be an opponent at all for the Big Ten.

UCLA and Washington have been declared ineligible for the Rose Bowl for three and two years, respectively.

On the other side of the coin, Ohio State, disciplined for Coach Woody Hayes' handouts to his football players, is ineligible next year.

Also before the faculty group was a round-robin Big Ten football schedule recommended earlier in the week by athletic directors.

The plan envisions a full nine-game conference schedule for each team plus one non-conference game.

Directors approved the idea in principle but agreed it is impractical until 1960 owing to present schedule commitments.

Gophers Seek Baseball Title Against Bucks

By The Associated Press

Minnesota, denied a Big Ten title of any kind since 1949, can clinch the baseball pennant today with a victory over the Buckeyes at Ohio State.

A defeat by the Gophers still would leave them with a chance. They then would need only to split a doubleheader Saturday at Indiana to be assured of the flag, their first in baseball since 1935.

Minnesota enters the final weekend of Big Ter play with an 11-1 record. Ohio State is second with 7-3.

The Buckeyes by defeating Minnesota and taking a pair from Iowa Saturday would finish with 10-3—.769. if the Gophers drop their last three games they would wind up with 11-4—.733 and be knocked out of the pennant.

Since John Vaught became head coach at Mississippi in 1947, Ole Miss footballers have won 64, lost 20 and tied 5.

Mantle Hits 17th

Yanks Pound Tigers 11-4, Wind Up Western Swing

The Associated Press

About the only printable thing Cleveland, Chicago, Kansas City and Detroit — the American League's Western Division — can say about New York today is "Yankee go home!"

After 10 days in the West, the Yankees have pocketed an 8-2 record, including a three-game sweep that shattered Chicago's ambitious six-game winning streak. And Mickey Mantle now has a .421 season batting average with 17 home runs.

It was strictly a get-well-quick trip for the Yanks, who left home May 13 with only a one-game edge over Cleveland after losing four of six. Now the Yanks have a three-game bulge over the Indians.

Thursday the Yankees clubbed Detroit 11-4 to wrap up the tour. It was the second straight day they socked Tiger pitching for 17 hits. Mantle had a homer—putting him 12 games ahead of Babe Ruth's record pace—and four singl-- for his third perfect day on the tour.

The only other game scheduled was in the National, and Philadelphia dropped Brooklyn into a fourth-place tie 6-4 as Willie Jones drove in four runs with two homers and a single.

New York's picnic at Detroit was a pretty fair example of how the Yanks have operated in the West. Bob Turley didn't go the distance, but Tom Sturdivant produced 5 1-3 scoreless relief innings with one-hit ball. Joe Collins and Andy Carey joined Mantle with solo homers and Eddie Robinson belted a grand-slammer off Steve Gromek, third of four reliefers to follow loser Duke Mass, for a 10-4 lead in the fifth.

Robin Roberts won his fifth for the Phillies, although giving up homers by Duke Snider, Carl Furillo and Jackie Robinson. The veteran right-hander — who holds for 89 pro fights dating back to 1948, Fullmer owns a 35-3 record runs off" at 41 — now has given up 12 gopher balls this season.

Snider's homer put the Brooks into the lead in the first, but Jones tied it in the second and sent the Phils into a 4-2 lead in the fourth off rookie Don Drysdale, who lost his second in three decisions.

Gene Fullmer, Humez Battle For Title Shot

NEW YORK (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson may meet the winner of tonight's Charles Humez-Gene Fullmer scrap in his next middleweight title defense.

On the other hand, he may wind up fighting Archie Moore for the light heavyweight crown or boxing Carmen Basilio, former welter champion. Plotting Robinson's future, even a few days before he is scheduled to fight, can be most difficult.

The 10-round match in Madison Square Garden between Humez, the European champion, and Fullmer, the "Cyclone" from West Jordan, Utah, should produce a worthy challenger. According to the latest Ring ratings, Humez is No. 2 and Fullmer No. 3 among the 160-pounders. As the same ratings also placed Bobo Olson No. 1, both men moved up a peg.

On the strength of comparative performances against Ralph (Tibelted a grand-slammer off Steve ger) Jones, 23-year-old Fullmer has been made the 7-5 favorite. Jones beat Humez in his American debut March 23 in the garden and Fullmer whipped Jones April 20 in Cleveland.

Humez, 29, has an 83-5-1 record

Wilhelm s chalked up its second straight victory by outscoring Vance's 8-6 while MPS - OSCO edged Hinton's 7-6

Two tallies in the sixth frame on a home run by Ron Maynard was the margin of difference in Wilhelm's two-run victory as the losers also came in with two in their half of the inning

Two runs in the first, two in the third, and single markers in the fourth and fifth rounds gave Wilhelm's a 6-4 bulge heading into the sixth Vance's scored twice in the third and added single runs in the next two frames

Earl Hill hurled for the winners, giving up eight hits, fanning 11 and walking five Flournoy worked on the mound for Vance's, allowing 11 hits, fanning four and walking three Maynard, Bob Anderson, Jack Waddell and Bob Baker led the Wilhelm hitting attack, with Baker also clouting a horn Roseberry, Henderson and Hall powered the Vance attack

Baltimore Star, Robinson Top Rookie Group

NEW YORK (AP) — Pair down Frank Robinson of Cincinnati and Don Ferrarese of Baltimore as probable candidates for major league baseball's rookie-of-the year honors.

Robinson, an outfielder, and Ferrarese, a lefthanded pitcher, appear to be in the lead in the competition for the prized award which is decided on a vote of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America at the close of the season

Robinson, who has contributed to the Redlegs' vaunted attack with eight homers and 15 runs batted in, has filled adequately the left field gap, a sore spot for Cincinnati last season. He is batting 301

Although showing only a 1-2 pitching record, Ferrarese has been a mild sensation in his three starts for the Orioles He defeated the New York Yankees 1-0 on a two-hitter and lost to Cleveland 2-1 and to Detroit 3-2 Don has given up only four earned runs in 31 1-3 innings for an earned run average of 1 16 He has issued only 16 bases on balls and struck out 32

Big Ten's Track Events To Begin

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Big Ten, usually a power in any sport you care to name, today opened its 56th outdoor track and field championships striving mightily to unveil at least a few solid Olympic candidates

Considerable luster was wiped from the two-day competition at the University of Minnesota when Jim Golliday of Northwestern, co-holder of the world record of 9 3 for the 100-yard dash, was scratched earlier this week from a defense of his 100 and 220 crowns.

Race Meet Opens

CINCINNATI (AP)—The annual 44-day thoroughbred racing meeting at River Downs opens today

It will be the second year of operation of the track under the ownership of Leon Slavin

Cary Middlecoff was the first golfer to earn $10,000 on the pro tour during 1956

Reds Invading Milwaukee in Fight for Lead

MILWAUKEE, Wis (AP)—Usually by this time of year the Cincinnati Redlegs are floundering around in the National League's second division but they moved in here today with a chance to challenge for the loop leadership

With a three-game series with Milwaukee coming up, the Reds stand only a half game and .050 in percentage behind the league leading Braves They're also a half game and 008 in percentage behind second place St Louis.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts says he intends to give Milwaukee a steady diet of right handed pitching in the series here, starting with Brooks Lawrence tonight.

The idea, of course, is to combat the right handed power hitting of Del Crandall, Hank Aaron and Bob Thomson It might mean a feast for left handed Eddie Mathews but he hasn't' hurt the Reds as much in previous games this season as the other three

After Lawrence Tebbetts figures to use Johnny Klippstein and then Art Fowler

The Redlegs will face some tough pitching Manager Charley Grimm of the Braves has Warren Spann, Ray Crone and Bob Buhl ready.

Thursday night the Cincinnatians registered a 3-2 exhibition game victory over the Kansas City Athletics on the strength of Stan Palys' eighth inning homer with Bob Thurman on base.

Paul LaPalme went seven innings for the Reds and got credit for the victory over the American League team.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Cowboys Abroad

American television is infiltrating to the far corners of the earth just as American movies have. The Siamese now have the blessings of Rin Tin Tin. The South Americans have the escapades of Corliss Archer. The Australians will shortly —television hasn't quite got under way Down Under yet — get their notions of American matrimony from "I Love Lucy."

JOHN CROSBY

For good or ill, American influences will spout from dozens of TV stations the world over — and heaven knows where it will all end. For instance, Corliss Archer has got to be a great favorite in Latin America. And what will that do to their teen-agers?

In Latin America, no teen-age girl would be permitted anything like the freedom Corliss enjoys. Their teen-agers are chaperoned carefully until marriage. What happens when their teens discover Corliss can go bucketing around the countryside with any number of boy friends? A social revolution? Ziv, which markets Corliss, rather hopes not. They don't want to be held responsible.

ZIV IS NOW SELLING tons of American programs in foreign markets, ranging from Monaco to the Dominican Republic. They now have shows in every Central and South American country which has television. They are programming over 860 half hours of American programs which have been dubbed into Spanish.

"Cisco Kid" and "Highway Patrol," neither of which has been exactly confused with great art, are two favorites all over Latin America. From these two, Latin Americans could easily get the idea that Americans' two favorite occupations were killing one another in automobiles or chasing one another around the wide open spaces on horseback.

Toward the end of this year, Australian television will get under way in Sidney and Melbourne. There will be two commercial TV stations and one government TV station in each city and all six will go on the air at once. Colin Bednall, general manager of one of the commercial stations, has just passed through town shopping for American TV programs.

HE CAME RATHER LATE to the feast. His commercial opposition and the government station both rushed to America and furiously competed for American programs.

Bednall decided to take his time, to wait until they'd spent all their money and he'd be the only Australian here with money to spend. "What would you do if your opposition had bought 'Lucy' and 'Disneyland'?" he wanted to know. I told him that, if he found the answer to that one, to let the competing networks here in on the secret. They haven't found the answer yet.

Successful American shows are sure to be a hit in Australia, Bednall thinks. He bases this on their experience in radio and newspapers. Ninety-nine out of a hundred successful American newspaper features and radio programs also appeal to Australians. The British don't do nearly so well in these fields in Australia as we do.

So Australian children will be watching American cowboys from infancy up. Bednall doubts that there will be any outcry from Australian parents. "In Australia, it's accepted, even by do-gooders, that a child may suffer from another child's anguish or a ghost at bedtime — but one cowboy shooting another is nothing."

ZIV IS NOW SELLING programs in the Philippines, Germany, Italy, France, Luxembourg, England and Switzerland — dubbed variously in Spanish, French, Italian and German (with Portuguese coming up.)

Among the programs in these countries are "I Led Three Lives," "Favorite Story," "A Man Called X," "Science Fiction Theater," "Mr. District Attorney," "Boston Blackie" and "The Unexpected," none of them exactly cultural programs.

This leads Ziv salesmen into some odd adventures. Once in Bogota, Colombia, a Ziv salesman showed two and a half hours of "Cisco Kid" and "Boston Blackie" to the president and his ministers. Immediately thereafter, he was thrown into jail.

The Ziv salesman didn't really think the shows were that bad and, as it turned out, that was not the issue. It seems some local character with influence has a nice little racket, shaking down foreign businessmen for 50 per cent of their profits.

Rising Traffic Toll Prevents Safety Award

Council To Withhold Top Recognition for Driving Peformance

CHICAGO (AP)—For the first time in many years, the National Safety Council today declined to present any state or city its grand award for all around traffic safety performance in 1955.

A worsening traffic safety situation throughout the United States was given by the council as its reason for withholding its award of honor, the council's top recognition for safety performance.

Only one state—Minnesota—and four cities—Dallas, Seattle, Oklahoma City and Palo Alto, Calif.—were granted awards of merit for achieving a grade of 70 per cent or more in all sections of the traffic safety award program. The program formerly was known as the National Traffic Safety Contest.

In addition, the council awarded certificates of achievement to 2½ additional states and 398 other cities for activities in various phases of traffic accident prevention, although their total grades were unsufficient to win major awards.

The award-winning cities included 195 which had no traffic deaths during 1955. In addition, 667 cities in the under - 10,000 population group, not eligible for the award program, were cited on a special honor roll for having no traffic deaths.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market sank in late morning today after a vigorous opening rally.

Most early gains of pivotal stocks were wiped out as losses of fractions to around two points spotted the list.

Here and there among the leaders gains remained of fractions to a point or so.

The bullish opening sent stocks climbing within a range of about three points and the ticker tape fell behind one minute in reporting transactions from the floor. It was the most active trading on a rise seen this week. Soon profit-taking began to take effect.

The early advance prevailed in all divisions in a reversal of Thursday's steep decline.

U. S. Steel and Bethlehem were off fractionally. Baltimore & Ohio and Atlantic Coast Line slipped around a point. International Paper was down around two points.

U. S. Treasury bonds advanced.

Small Business Interest Expressed by Rep. Betts

WASHINGTON — The importance of small business in the national economy was the subject of remarks made to the Congress this week by Eighth District Rep. Jackson E. Betts. He reaffirmed his belief that the federal government's function should be to provide a healthful climate wherein the people are given incentive to take the risks which go with commercial ventures.

The Ohio legislator referred to several bills now before the Congress which would provide varying degrees of tax relief to small business. He expressed interest in the proposed study of a tax reporting system which would reduce the voluminous records now required by law. Rep. Betts indicated that he had invited comments from small businessmen in the Eighth District.

Morrow County Sheriff Ordered To Fire Deputy

MOUNT GILEAD—The Morrow County Commissioners have ordered that County Sheriff George Mosier terminate the services of his extra deputy effective June 1.

In the letter sent to Sheriff Mosier, the commissioner said the action was necessary since "funds are not forthcoming to maintain further service," of two deputies.

Sheriff Mosier said the services of Deputy Bob Strain would be terminated in compliance with the order but declared he was at a loss to explain the move. He said his two deputies had more than paid their way by fines collected from traffic and other cases. "For the first four months the 21 days of this year, fines collected, exclusive of costs, amounted to a total of $2,397.50," he pointed out.

Jury Is Dismissed

A Marion Municipal Court jury called to hear a traffic case this morning was excused when the charge of drunk driving was dismissed and the defendant, William Longberry, 42, of near Marion pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of reckless driving. He was fined $50 and costs by Acting Judge Russell Wilhelm.

A total of 40 jurors was called and 32 appeared at the courtroom this morning for duty.

Calls for Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) has urged the Senate to order an investigation of "slaughter on our highways" He suggested that the Labor and Public Welfare Committee look into the possibility of uniform standards for driving licenses and "reciprocal arrangements for enforcement of state laws designed for accident prevention"

When Harvard captain Ken Rossano blanked Army, 4-0, with four hits it marked his third pitching victory in eight days.

Soldier Finds Mother Dying After Shooting

CLEVELAND (AP)—M Sgt Ronald Sarnecki told police he got a frantic telephone call Thursday from his mother, who said, "Hurry up and get over here"

When he got there he found his 44-year-old mother, Mrs Sophie Sarnecki, lying inside the side entrace to her tavern, a bullet wound in her left chest.

There was a snub-nosed .38-caliber revolver next to her body, powder burns on her blue nightgown, and bullet holes in the door glass and in a metal cabinet and refrigerator.

She died en route to Marymout Hospital.

County police Thursday night joined the two-man police force of suburban Valley View in the investigation.

They questioned and released Mrs Sarnecki's husband, Henry.

Police held a 50-year-old man for questioning. They said robbery did not seem to be the motive since there was cash in the till.

B. & K. Visit To U.S. Left To President

Mansfield Is Willing To Let Him Decide; Knowland Hits Idea

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen Mansfield (D-Mont) said today he is willing to leave it up to President Eisenhower s 'own good judgment whether to invite Russian leaders to visit the United States

Mansfield a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee made the observation in an interview after Senate Republican Leader Knowland (Calif) told the Senate

'I do not believe that any American president would extend such an invitation or that the American people or the American Congress would approve if it were extended"

K and B. Visit Suggested

In his floor speech Friday, Knowland said the suggestion has recently been made by 'columnists and commentators' that invitations be extended to Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev Premier Nikolai Bulganin and others to visit this country

Saying he opposed an invitation to these or any of a number of other Russian leaders including Soviet Marshal Georgi Zhukov Knowland added

"I am greatly shocked that even some of our good citizens should be taken in by such a proposal'

Talk of possible visits by the Russian leaders has been revived by Russia s informal invitation this week to have several high U S Air Force officers attend Soviet Aviation Day ceremonies in Moscow June 24 and U S hints it might welcome a broader invitation to include all members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff

Nothing further on either possibility has been heard from the Russians

Secretary of State Dulles declined to comment on the possibility of an invitation to the U S Joint Chiefs

The British announced in London that they have under consideration" a similar invitation to Air Minister Nigel Birch and a group of senior RAF officers

Awaits Invitation

In Boston, Secretary of the Air Force Quarles told interviewers Friday night the United States "will be happy to see anything the Russians care to show us" if the formal invitation is received

A return invitation to the Russians to visit this country, he said, would have to have some serious

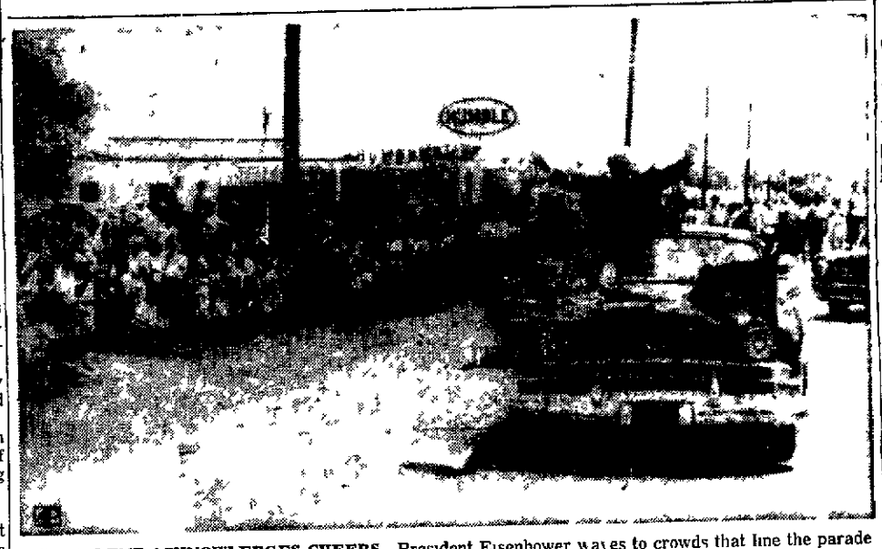
African-Asian Bloc Seeks Aid

U.N. Help Requested In Algerian Fighting



PRESIDENT ACKNOWLEDGES CHEERS. President Eisenhower waves to crowds that line the parade route in Waco Texas, as he rides from airport to Baylor University where he spoke at commencement exercises (Story on Page 7)

Council Will Be Asked To Discuss Strife

20 of 23 Nations in Group Vote To Bid For Full Discussion

UNITED NATIONS N Y (AP) — The U N's African Asian group has decided to ask the Security Council to discuss the fighting in strife torn Algeria

U Paw Htin of Burma, group chairman announced the decision after a 90 minute private caucus Friday night He said details would be worked out later

Majority Favors Move

He told reporters 20 of the 23 countries in the group—the U N s biggest — were on hand Friday and a majority favored the move He added Hussein Ait Ahmed, Algerian nationalist spokesman, proposed it

Other informed sources said 12 countries were prepared to join in an appeal to the council only the Philippines and Turkey declined to do so and the remaining six lacked the necessary instructions from home Laos, Libya and Nepal were not represented

The French delegation did not comment on the latest move France has been fighting against a nationalist rebellion in Algeria since Nov 1, 1954 The French government considers that north African region part of France itself and holds that the U N has no right to intervene

Last July 13 Arab and Asia delegations asked that the Algerian question be put on the agenda of the 1955 General Assembly session It was voted onto the agenda Sept 30 The French walked out The French came back the following December after the assembly resolved to drop the issue

At a meeting of the African-Asian group May 15, delegates decided to seek instructions that would allow them to ask for a special session of the General Assembly on the question They took this course it was said in the belief they could get only three of the seven votes necessary to put the question on the agenda of the Security Council

Plans Changed

But over the weekend the Arab League political committee met in Damascus and decided to press for Security Council consideration Friday the group changed its plans accordingly Paw Htin said it did so because the situation had deteriorated to a point of urgency

Calling a special session of the assembly requires the approval of a majority of the U N's 76 members in a mail-and-cable poll Delegates in the group have said they think 35 of the necessary 39 members would approve the idea now and they might manage to win over another four Observers wondered why the group had switched from the idea of a special session, which it might have swung to that of a council debate, which it stood little chance to obtain

Ait-Ahmed s said that even if the group failed to get the council to discuss Algeria, the effort would encourage the nationalists and result in large publicity'

Then he said the group could try for a special session Failing in that it could seek a debate on Algeria in the assembly s three-month regular session to begin next Nov 12

The group s complaint to the Security Council it was understood, will be that the situation in Algeria is a threat to international peace and security

Senate To Get Big Highway Bill Next Week

Johnson Will Seek To Hold Vote Tuesday On 13-Year Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate will consider Monday a bill to authorize a massive highway improvement program and to provide billions of dollars in new taxes to pay for the construction

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B Johnson of Texas said Friday he will push for a final vote by Tuesday night

For Interstate Roads

Johnson scheduled floor debate after the Senate Finance Committee finished work on the bill In its final form, the bill contains a 'pay as you build" proviso applying only to work on the 40 000 mile interstate highway system This system will take most of the money under the program The committee modified an earlier action which would have applied the restriction also to primary, urban and farm to-market roads

This section would restrict work in any year of the projected 13 year program to the amount available from highway user taxes such as those on gasoline, tires and trucks.

Would Increase Taxes

The Senate bill would authorize a 37 billion dollar federal - state highway construction program For the interstate system, the authorizations would run over 13 years For the other three systems, they would extend for only five years

The House has passed a bill calling for a 51½ billion dollar program to last for 13 years

Both the Senate and House bills provide for increased highway user taxes—including a penny a gallon increase in the present two-cent federal tax on gasoline.

Mother Holds Key to Slaying Of 3 Children

LAKE WALES Fla (AP)—Only a critically wounded mother who so far has been unable to talk to officers from her hospital bed knows why she killed her three children and tried to take her own life

Police Chief Tom Petty and other officers tried Friday to question Mrs Lorene Calbeck, but she was under the influence of sedatives and could not talk They planned to try again today

Mrs Calbeck snuffed out the lives, one by one of Shirley, 5 Pamela 3, and Jan, 15 months, by firing four bullets into the region of their hearts

Mrs Calbeck s husband Mark who is employed as a steelworker at Sault Ste Marie Mich, arrived here Friday night

Relatives who accompanied Calbeck said his wife had written two days ago and that "everything seemed all right then'

After the shooting Mrs Calbeck told Patrolman S D Bretton I did the shooting of the children all by myself I don t want to talk about it"

Visibly shaken when he landed by plane at St Petersburg Calbeck said I have no idea why this happened or what happened You know just as much as I do I can t talk now and don t take my picture—maybe tomorrow"

Three notes left behind gave no hint of the reason behind the shootings One was how to communicate with her husband Another was to her husband asking him to look for a 'very important black Bible' in a suitcase but no such suitcase was found A third asked the trailer park manager to water her gardenias.
